ARC gets boat referendum on ballot

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch Township's Against Riverboat Casino group, in its attempt to eliminate the possibility of a casino site here, has won another battle as the group gathered enough signatures to get an advisory referendum on the April 20 ballot.

"The group gathered over 2,000 signatures," said ARC member Judy Martini. "We really want to thank everyone for their support."

Martini expressed that the referendum, although not binding, will give the township a voice on whether or not gambling is right for the area.

"It will allow the public to voice its concerns on this issue," said Martini. "This is just good government."

Following the referendum vote, ARC plans to make the results available to the Illinois State Gaming Commission in Springfield, said Martini. The gaming commission is the governing body that will grant a gaming license to one of four possible state gambling sites.

ARC continues to meet weekly on Monday's at 7:30 p.m. at Antioch United Methodist Church.

ARC members offered residents a chance to sign a petition to get a referendum on the April 20 ballot at Illinois Senator Paul Simon's Town Hall Meeting at College of Lake County.

Ballot's top spot up for grabs

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

The top spot on the Antioch Township ballot for the supervisor's job is still up for grabs as all four candidates filed at the township office at the same time on Feb. 1.

A lottery to determine the winner of the coveted top position on the ballot will occur on Feb. 11 at 9 a.m. at the township office in Antioch.

Under state law, when two or more candidates file simultaneously, a lottery must be conducted to determine who will get the top spot on the election ballot. The lottery will also determine the rest of the order the candidates will be listed.

ACHS sign-up for new students

Plans are made for registering and enrolling area eighth graders into Antioch Community High School for the 1993-94 school year. Current eighth graders and their parents are invited to attend a Class of 1997 open house on Feb. 16. The evening will begin at 7 p.m. in the auditorium and include an activities fair, open departments and classrooms and high school personnel available to answer questions and explain the curriculum.

Additionally, eighth graders in local feeder schools and their parents will be invited to attend one of two Enrollment Nights—Feb. 22 and March 2, where students will be registered and enrolled in courses for the 1993-94 school year.

Filing at the same time were Antioch Township Supervisor Jim Fields, Mayor Robert Wilton, Chain O' Lakes Waterway Director Judy Martini, and township resident Lisa Rudick.

Martini feels she is Antioch's RIGHT choice

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch Township Supervisor candidate Judy Martini hopes she will be the RIGHT choice for township voters when the polls open on April 20.

Martini, who is running against three other candidates on a crowded ballot, believes that she is running the right campaign by linking her independent candidacy to other independent candidates.

"My philosophy of Responsibility, Integrity, Good government, Honesty, and Truth is what links me to those other independent candidates," said Martini.

Martini, who will be listed as an independent candidate on the April 20 ballot, believes she is a proven leader and wants to bring township government back to the people.

"I have proven myself to be an effective leaders as a director of the Waterway Commission and a member of the steering committee of the Special Area Management Planning (Continued on page 9)

Man convicted of reckless homicide

LAKE COUNTY—Michael Testin, 18, of West Chicago could be sentenced up to seven years in prison after being found guilty by a Lake County court on charges of reckless homicide in the death of Hawthorn Woods resident Anthony Logan, 13. Logan was struck and killed by Testin's 1984 Corvette as he and a friend were walking along Route 12, July 20 about 10:30 p.m.

ARC gets riverboat referendum on ballot

ANTIOCH—Antioch Township's Against Riverboat Casino group, in its attempt to eliminate the possibility of a casino site here, has won another battle as the group gathered enough signatures to get an advisory referendum on the April 20 ballot. Libertyville Twp. Assessor sues NFL LIBERTYVILLE — William Swanson, Libertyville Township Assessor, is suing the NFL over pension, according to reports. Swanson, who scouts and grades officials for the NFL, charges that the league has shortchanged him out of pension benefits for the past five years. Waukegan attorney Robert Masini filed a lawsuit two weeks ago that stated Swanson should have a monthly pension of $1,100 instead of the $500 he receives now. Swanson has been associated with the NFL since 1965 and has been an on-field and instant-replay official.

Alternatives suggested for Route 53 extension

LONG GROVE — The Village of Long Grove unveiled plans for alternatives to the proposed extension of Route 53 at a meeting of the Central Lake County Corridor Council held in Lake Zurich. Discussions of the options will continue at the council's regular meeting this month. Affected communities got a look at four alternate alignments of the extension which are designed to avoid Lake County's wetlands and which veer to varying degrees from the path proposed by the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Police investigating damage reports

LAKE ZURICH—Lake Zurich police are investigating several reports of criminal damage to homes over the weekend in which ball bearings were shot through windows shattering them. A wrist rocket is believed to have been the weapon used in the attacks. A total of $1,600 in damage was done. Six incidents were reported in all.

Neighborhood meetings plan told

GRAYSLAKE—Mayoral candidate Pat Carey is suggesting neighborhood meetings if elected mayor. The meetings would be attended by one or some of the village board members. Carey is running against incumbent Marv Smith in the April 20 election.

Man's trial set for attempted murder

WAUCONDA — Daniel Serbedzija, 41, was indicted on one count of armed violence and one count attempted first-degree murder late in December, 1992, according to Wauconda police officials. He allegedly stabbed his wife repeatedly in the neck. He will go to trial Feb. 8. Gail Serbedzija, the man's wife, received a deep laceration across the palm of her right hand and a 4-inch laceration of her jugular vein. Gail Serbedzija will never have full use of her right hand again, according to her doctor. Daniel Serbedzija was placed in Lake County Jail with a $500,000 bond. That bond continues to stand.

Township may sue Penner perpetrators

FOX LAKE — Grant Township is considering legal action against the party responsible for the dumping of dredging spoils on Penner Island. Supervisor Alberta Miller said she and other township officials were taken aback when they received a notice of the violation from Lake County. Miller said a lawsuit would target the person or persons who hired someone to do dredging near the small island and gave permission — without any authority — to dump the material on the island. The three-acre island near Stanton Bay was given to the township in 1986 by Ruth Penner. The stipulations of the donation were that the island's name wouldn't be changed and that it would be kept in its natural state as a wildlife refuge.

Consultants turn down study of Route 22

LINCOLNSHIRE — Attempts by Lincolnshire officials to have an engineering study prepared to refute the basic assumptions of the Illinois Department of Transportation's plan to widen Route 22 have been temporarily derailed. Six traffic consultants whom the village solicited to review the roadway plan have turned the job down, said Village Manager David M. Limardi at a Committee of the Whole meeting this week. "All (consultants) have declined because they work with IDOT and don't want to risk losing funding from IDOT," he said.

Three store giants protest 1992 taxes

ROUND LAKE — Objections to 1992 property assessments were down last year in Avon Twp. But three of the 88 protests could have a negative impact on taxing bodies in the Round Lake area. Sizable reductions of their 1992 tax bill, payable this year, are being requested for Round Lake Beach properties occupied by Wal-Mart, K Mart and the Jewel-Osco store. Hearings were completed last week by the Lake County Board of Review and a decision made this week or next. A $193,000 reduction in the assessment of the Jewel and K Mart properties is being requested. Both are owned by Sida Enterprises of California. Wal-Mart is seeking a smaller reduction.

Bader announces retirement plans

GURNEE—Warren Twp. High School boys basketball coach Darrel Bader is retiring. The school announced his retirement Wednesday. Bader has been the coach at the Gurnee school for 17 years.

LHS student to conduct orchestra

LIBERTYVILLE — Rob Gehrke, a 17-year-old Libertyville High School student, has earned the right to conduct the LHS Symphony Orchestra at the Music Educators National Convention, North Central Division, Feb. 11, 12 and 13 in Minneapolis. He composed a three-string piece of music for the orchestra to play specifically at the competition. Gehrke has been involved in music since he was a young child. He first composed a 13 instrument piece of music for the Illinois Music Educators Association student composition contest last year and won first place.

Trucker hauls sign of POW remembrance

MUNDELEIN—An 18-wheeler toting a larger-than-life message of remembrance drove into town delivering a trailer-full of lumber to the Decorel picture frame plant. Black and white. Graphic and massive. "POW's Your are not forgotten." Cross-country trucker and Viet Nam veteran Alan Hopkins carries the message with him to remember those that were left behind. "I do it to keep a reminder out in front of the public that they (POWs) need to be found," said Hopkins.

Lake Zurich election will be repeat of 1989

LAKE ZURICH—In a rematch of the April 1989 municipal elections John Schweda is challenging Village President James Kay for the top chair in village government. Both parties stress unity in village government as the key to getting the village working again.

It's Not That Bad

I have a bone to pick with people. I am so sick of hearing people cut down Round Lake and say that it's a terrible place and filled with gangs. This is really making me mad. I have lived here for almost 18 years and it's not that bad. Sure, there's some people that make it bad. What town doesn't have that? Round Lake is not the only place that has gangs. Come through Round Lake and live here for one day. It's not bad. Give it a chance.

It's A Stolen Jacket

This is a message directed to all the parents. If your child comes home with a Navy blue Georgetown jacket, your child did not trade it or borrow it. That jacket was stolen from my son's locker, along with his lunch money, from Antioch High School on Jan. 26. Thank you.

Straighten Out Hainesville

In your Lipservice, you've had a thing about Love It Or Leave It and Hainesville. It was something about people who didn't like to drive through Hainesville and were going to use Washington Street. Those people should watch Washington Street, too, because it also has Hainesville watching it. Driving on Washington isn't an alternative; the alternative is to straighten out Hainesville.

Dangerous Intersection

I'm calling in regards to Rte. 59 and Grass Lake Road. I sincerely feel something should be done there. When you travel south and north, you could be going 50 miles per when approaching that intersection. When you travel east and west, you can be going 45 miles per hour. That's an extremely dangerous intersection. I think the entrance to the gas station is terrible, also. Do something about that.

Time Or Children?

I'm a fifth generation Fox Lake resident. I've seen many things come and go. My main concern as a parent of two from a small town is that my children will become bored as they grow older. Bored children look for anything for a little excitement, possibly drugs, crime, gangs, and early pregnancy. As parents, we should get involved in our children's activities. Why not donate a 3 1/2-hour night to the youth club. What's more valuable, your time or your children?

S.S. Kelly

I'm an Antioch resident and I have a suggestion for "Name the Riverboat" contest. It should be called the S.S. Woody Kelly. All it's going to do is take our money and leave.

Host Of Answers

I'd like to thank Lipservice for giving a lot of us the chance to do this. I have opinions to a lot of different things, so I'll make this quick. To the guy who wants to round up and shoot the deer, I think he should be shot. The second thing is that Elvis is dead — let it rest. He was great, but he's dead. I also don't see anything wrong with riverboat gambling if it's going to create jobs for people. If all people can do is call up and complain about it, they need to find something better to do.

Dangerous Fluorine

I'm from Mundelein and I've heard that the fluorine in our water causes tumors in our pets. I'd like to know if this true.

Doughnuts, Coffee, Cops

I'm calling from Grayslake in response to the police staffing issue. I think we have more than enough police officers and I support the mayor and trustees for reducing the number of officers. Why should we need more than one officer at any one time? In addition, I don't understand all the complaining about salaries; all they do is drive around for eight hours, drink coffee and eat doughnuts. Let's put this issue to a public vote and you'll see that a lot of people feel this way.

What Are Your Thoughts?

This week's Lipservice question is: How Can Lake County Chop its skyrocketing taxes? Thank you for all the responses to last week's question.

—Last Week's Question— Lake County's Biggest Problem...

Is too much quick growth in residential areas. This adds to the overcrowding in our schools. The way to solve this problem is extremely high school impact fees from the developers to help offset costs. I'm from Antioch.

Is growth and how to deal with it. A main solution could be impact fees. I think all villages need to introduce impact fees that are fair and equitable. That will relieve the taxpayers of the burden of increasing taxes for services. Services should also be increased.

Is the Lake County Board. When the board begins to represent its constituents, things might get better for the county.

Is the person in Lake County who underhandedly stopped the Libertyville High School referendum. He stopped the children from learning.

Is the traffic. One way to alleviate the traffic problems on Rte. 22 is to expand it. It needs to be two lanes, but Lincolnshire won't do it.

New culture exciting for newest exchange student

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch welcomed another foreign exchange student to Antioch Community High School through the help of Rotary International and the Antioch Rotary Club.

Australian student Christine Letchford, of Coongulla, Australia, arrived in the United States on Jan. 16 and will spend her time between a host of Antioch families during her one year stay in Antioch.

"I was looking forward to coming to the United States to see the culture and education system," said Letchford, 17. "Hopefully, I will be able to buy some clothing while I'm here."

Letchford, who is presently hosted by George and Pat Broecker, also wants to see some sporting events and visit some sights during her stay.

She plans to pursue a psychology degree from an Australian University after she graduates from high school next year. "Maybe I will become a teacher at either a high school or a university," said Letchford.

Antioch Chamber elects officers for 1993

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry elected its 1993 officers to the group's board of directors and will take office after the chamber's Installation Dinner on Jan. 23.

Elected by the chamber's members for officer appointments are: President Debilyn Cooksy of the Antioch Golf Club/Hogan's Restaurant, First Vice-President Reed Ano of Collette/Ano Plumbing, Second Vice-President Florence Heiselmann of Flo's Family Hair Care, Treasurer Bob Mueller of the First Chicago Bank of Antioch and Secretary Karen Dunham of the First Bank of Antioch.

Returning to the board for a second year are: Directors Frank DiMarco of DiMarco's Restaurant, Gary Klean of Lyon's Ryan Ford, Rich Zeman of Antioch Pizza and John McNeil of Red Carpet Realty.

Regular board meetings will begin again this month.

Audience members were visibly pleased at the SAMP meeting when a motion to support the Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway Agency wetland and water quality restoration efforts passed unanimously.

The motion to work with U.S. Army Corps of Engineers officials to prepare wetland restoration plans using dredge material and draft appropriate water quality standards for dredging was made by Lt. Col. Reed, the Chicago District corps commander.

Dr. William Dam, chairman of the agency, requested the board make the two-point motion. He noted officials from the Army Corps Waterway Experimental Station in Vicksburg, Miss. — Dr. Mary Landin and Dr. Jack Fowler — had already volunteered to assist with drafting the plans, awaiting a formal request.

It was the corps officials who noted Illinois is one of the few states that does not have specific water quality standards for dredging.

John Rogner, of U. S. Fish and Wildlife and, chairman of the Environmental Subcommittee, made a report on the need to address the deterioration of Grass Lake. He encouraged each agency to draft a vision statement so that "together we can make good things happen."

"This kind of cooperation is long overdue," stated Judy Martini, agency director. "It is very encouraging."

Special birthday

I am fully aware that my life has been blessed with a good husband, four great kids, many loving family members and an abundance of terrific friends. However, the birth of Alyssa Janelle Filips has added an extra specialness to all of our lives.

Feb. 3rd was the date of her first birthday and none of us can believe how quickly this year has rolled by. It seems like yesterday that our daughter and son-in-law told us of her anticipated arrival. It seems like yesterday that we visited her at the hospital only a few short hours after her birth.

Throughout the year, we enjoyed watching her accomplish many things—her first smile; the ability to roll over; soon after that sitting up and crawling; then she began pulling herself up and walking around the furniture; followed by the ultimate walking alone. We watched her baby hair fall out only to be replaced by a second crop of even prettier brown hair. We watched her

Hometown Goodies

LIZ SCHMEHL

appearance change as her mouth filled with baby teeth. We watched her advance from nursing, to formula, to baby food and then to table food.

Yes, it has been a wonderful year in the Schmehl/Filips households and we all wish our precious angel a very happy Feb. 3rd, first birthday, with many more to come.

Theatre time

The next scheduled production at the PM&L Theatre in Antioch is "Something's Afoot." It is a mystery musical and directed by Ken Smouse. The scheduled dates are Feb. 12, 13, 14, 19, 20, 21, 26, 27 and 28. Friday and Saturday performances are at 8 p.m. and the Sunday matinees are at 2:30 p.m. On Feb. 20 there will be both a 2:30 p.m. matinee and 8 p.m. performance. The theatre is located on Main St. across from the village offices and Municipal Building in downtown Antioch. Call 395-3055 for reservations, as seating is limited.

The next two dates for SHARE deliveries are Feb. 13 and March 13.

Protector

Jan. 21st was three-year-old Robbie Lindstrom's first day at Camp Crayon. His older brother, Eddie, now five years old, has been in the program for three years, and he was very protective and helpful to Robbie during this first big experience away from mom and home.

Bradley Lindstrom, the oldest of the three Lindstrom boys, helped Eddie in the same manner three years ago. It is heartwarming to see siblings so loving and protective of each other. Mom Gail and Daddy Bruce deserve a big pat on the back for guiding their family in such a loving, special way.

With little Kaley's arrival, the Lindstrom boys were given a little sister to protect and she is now seven months old. Since the years have a way of sneaking away from us, I can already imagine little Robbie guiding Kaley at Camp, the way Bradley did for Eddie and Eddie is presently doing for him. God willing I will be able to experience the next passing of the Camp Crayon Torch (so to speak) in the Lindstrom family.

Special gifts

Alice and Chester Dykiel of Antioch were given extra special holiday gifts for Christmas and New Year—two more grandchildren.

Little Benjamin James was born at Victory Memorial Hospital on Dec. 13 to Jeff and Ruth Dykiel. Waiting at home to help spoil their new little brother was 12 year old Andrew, four year old Matthew and two year old Nicole.

The Dykiel's New Year gift arrived on Jan. 16 at Lake Forest Hospital to mom and dad Debbie and Tom Madden. Waiting at home to help spoil his new little sister was four year old Tommy Madden.

Congratulations to everyone.

Does she?

When little four year old Tommy Madden's baby sister was born, he asked his mom the following three questions: "Does she talk? Does she eat? Does she go poo in her diaper?" Once again, out of the mouths of babes!

Happy birthday

I would like to extend a very happy February birthday wish to the following Antioch area residents from Lizard and readers.

Pre-kindergarten parent workshop at Millburn

Millburn School is offering district parents of three-, four- and five-year-old preschoolers a "Kindergarten Preparation Workshop" on Feb. 16 at 7 p.m. at the school. Through the efforts of staff personnel, parents of future kindergarten students will have the opportunity to learn how to help prepare their child for classroom experiences. Developmental areas discussed will be speech and language; small and large motor skills; academic skills; conceptual experiences and social and emotional adjustments to the classroom environment.

Parents of 1993-94 kindergarten children who attend this program will also have the opportunity to schedule a specific time for their child's screening which will be held on March 17, 18 and 19.

Those parents who are unable to attend the program and would like to schedule a screening time and date should call the school at 356-8331 after Feb. 16. Parents should bring an original certificate of their child's birth. A hospital certificate is not valid verification of a child's birth.

Kindergarten students must be five years old on or before Sept. 1 to be eligible for the 1993-94 school year.

Antioch women's club to offer a $500 scholarship

College of Lake County financial aid office.

The deadline to return the scholarship applications is April 23, 1993. A committee will anonymously select the recipient based on scholastic ability, merit, and financial need. The successful candidate will be notified early in May 1993.

Lindenhurst former chief wants his name cleared

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Former Lindenhurst Chief of Police Richard Jablonski wants his credibility and respect back.

After being fired by Mayor Paul Baumunk on Nov. 30 for allegedly acting in an unprofessional and abusive manner, the public hearing given to Jablonski left many present under the impression that Jablonski stole thousands of dollars of drug confiscation money.

Now that a State's Attorney's Office probe has concluded that all funds have been accounted for and no misuse of those funds occurred, Jablonski wants his name and reputation salvaged.

"I just want everyone to know why I was fired," said Jablonski. "I was fired because of personalities, not because I did something illegal."

Baumunk stated that Jablonski was fired for the six reasons given at the public meeting and said that the Village Board backed him in his decision to fire Jablonski.

The funds investigation, which began immediately after Baumunk and Lindenhurst Village Administrator Jim Stevens uncovered the two "secret" bank accounts at the police department, was conducted by the Lake County State's Attorney's Office personnel.

Jablonski stated at the public meeting that he couldn't just leave the money at the police station, so he opened accounts at a local bank for deposit until state's attorney could determine where the money would go. Money is either returned to the defendant or turned over to the state under Illinois law.

Village officials said at the meeting that the opening of the accounts wasn't in question. The problem for the village was the unauthorized way Jablonski opened the accounts, and deposited and withdrew money. All of this was done without any knowledge by any village officials, according to Baumunk.

In addition the state's attorney's report added that there were not adequate records of transactions kept during Jablonski's reign. This made it very difficult for village officials to determine whether or not money had actually been taken.

Baumunk said that the village was pleased that all of the money had been accounted for, and no public money was taken.

"We are happy that all of the funds have been accounted for," said Baumunk. "The village has said all it is going to say on this issue unless we are asked to in court."

Jablonski, according to Baumunk, has not yet filed a lawsuit against the village.

Rotary Club offers college scholarships to ACHS grads

The Antioch Rotary Club is continuing to give college scholarships to ACHS graduating seniors who intend to enroll in school this fall.

To qualify for the numerous scholarships awarded by the Rotary Club, students must either be seeking an associates degree in a two-year program, seeking a four-year degree from a university or four-year college, but plan to first enroll in a community college, or are seeking a bachelors' degree from a four-year college or university.

"Although the number and amount of the scholarships vary annually," said Ted Axton, chairman of the scholarship committee. "For the 1992 school year, we awarded 12 scholarships totaling $10,050."

Axton said the criteria for determining scholarship recipients is based on financial need of the applicant, academic achievement, and extra curricular activities.

Applicants need to fill out the ACHS Standard Local Scholarship Application, along with a short form addendum, and return it to the ACHS College Career Center. Copies of the Rotary Scholarship applicants will be submitted to the Rotary Scholarship Committee after the ACHS Guidance Office assigns a number to each student's application, so that the decision can be made without knowing the student's names.

Scholarship finalists, according to Axton, will probably be interviewed at ACHS during the school day.

Scholarship recipients will be invited and expected to attend a Rotary Club luncheon in the Spring of 1993, and to schedule follow-up visits to the Club meeting when they return to the area.

Further questions about the scholarship, according to Axton, can be answered by contacting the ACHS Guidance Office.

Grayslake officer saves life

A Grayslake police officer is being honored for his role in helping a female juvenile stay alive.

Matt McCutcheon was honored by Chief Ed Wunderle for his efforts on Jan. 10.

"I responded to her residence and spoke with her parents and was able to trace her by the footprints in the snow," McCutcheon said.

The call came over the 911 emergency lines from a "friend of a friend", police said.

"Once I found her, she was lying on the ground and had taken some pills," McCutcheon said.

The youth was transported to Condell Medical Center by Grayslake Fire Dept. personnel. Several different bottles were found, McCutcheon said. The victim was released from the hospital a week later.

The call came in at 4:24 a.m. McCutcheon regularly works the 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. shift. He has been on the force for two years.

"I always wanted to be a policeman," McCutcheon said.

His uncle is a retired policeman from Chicago. He worked for the Country Club Hills police force before joining Grayslake.

"I am pleased that we have officers of this caliber who are willing to take the initiative for the public which can prevent a tragedy," Wunderle said.

"It felt good to be able to help," McCutcheon said.

The family has sent a thankyou letter to the police department.

The name of the youth was not released.

Showcase for wetlands

Wadsworth project known world-wide for wetlands preservation, research.

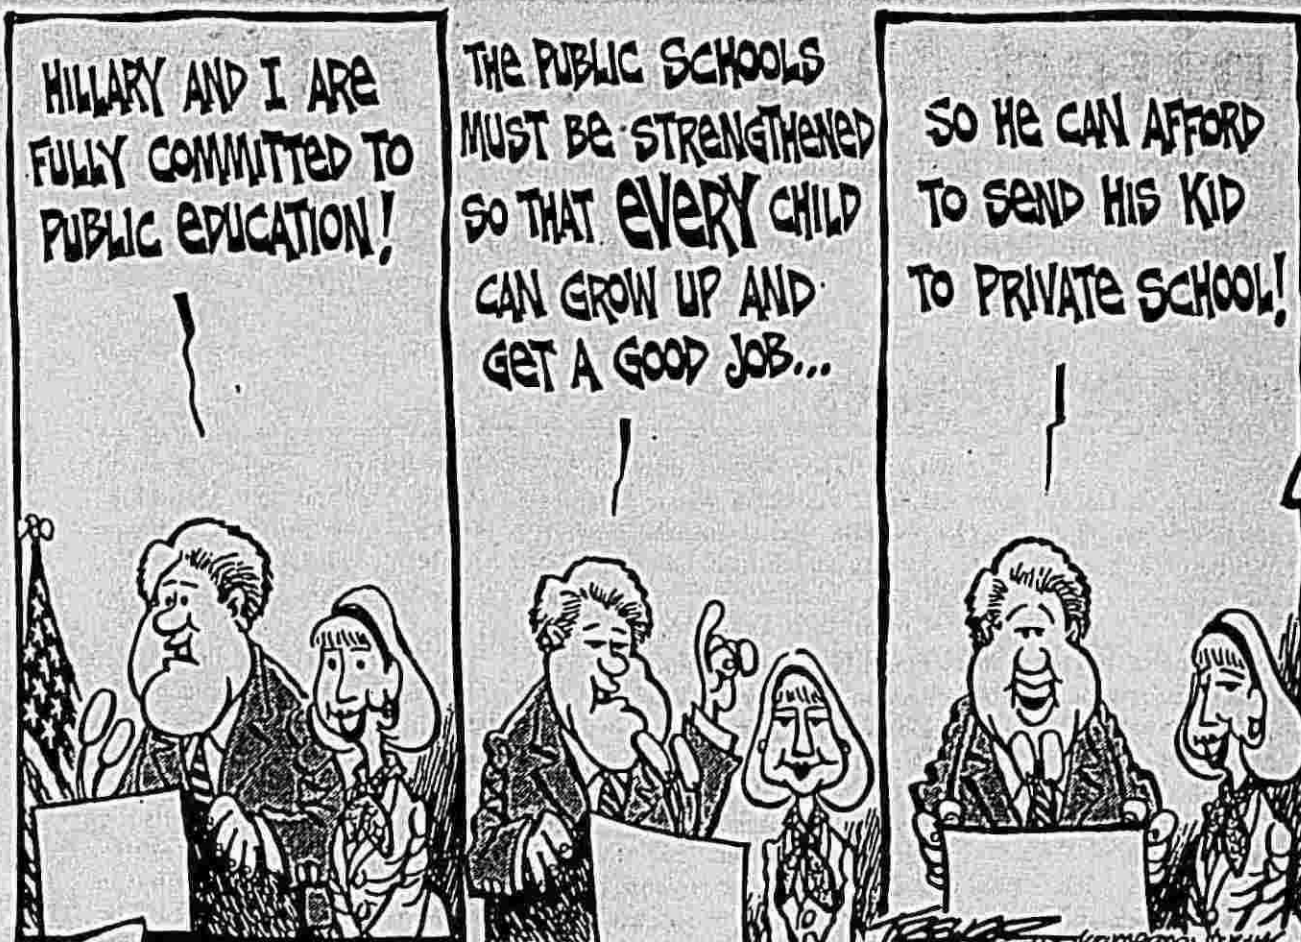

Construction of an interpretive center is part of an ambitious $10.5 million expansion program announced by the DesPlaines River Wetlands Demonstration Project, a restoration, research and education facility at Wadsworth that already has achieved a world-wide reputation in a scant few years of existence.

A joint venture of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. and the not-for-profit Openlands Project, the project is designed to show how wetlands are important to life by removing water-borne pollutants, controlling flooding and providing wildlife habitat.

The DesPlaines River project is destined to become a showcase for the widely-accepted no net loss policy for America's vital wetlands, so much of which have been desecrated by man. A unique feature of the Wadsworth facility is the interesting partnerships that have been forged for furthering the cause of wetlands preservation and creation, particularly in the private business sector. Corporations are beginning to understand that preserving wetlands is good business.

Conservationists and preservationists believe that the key to maintaining a no net loss posture is the creation of new wetlands. Therein lies the importance of the Lake County project, providing a living, thriving model where political leaders, engineers, developers and the public can see with their own eyes significant and far-reaching contributions to a healthy environment made by wetlands.

Rail plan advances

Influential organization advances cause for improved transportation.

Slowly, the base of support for establishment of commuter service on the Wisconsin Central is expanding. A special task force of the influential Northwest Municipal Conference has been created to further the cause of adding Wisconsin Central mid-county facilities to the commuter mix.

Mayor JoAnne Eckmann of Libertyville is serving as co-chair. The task force is surveying the planning status of station sites, and cultivating the support of elected officials and citizens alike.

Once only a dream, Wisconsin Central commuter service has advanced to the status of a distinct possibility. Recognition of organizations like the Northwest Municipal Conference is strong evidence that the rail commuter plan "has arrived." Some NWMC members are a considerable distance from the Wisconsin Central line, like Lake Zurich and Lincolnshire in Lake County, but leaders know that improved transportation benefits everyone. That says a lot.

Medical progress

New facility to focus on never-ending problems of chemical abuse.

Another forward step in the never-ending battle against drug and alcohol abuse has been taken with the establishment of a Victory Memorial Hospital Victory Chemical Dependency Programs facility at Lindenhurst.

The outpatient center featuring a holistic approach officially will be opened to the public at an open house from 2 to 6 p.m. Friday, Feb. 26.

The facility, second of its kind for Victory, joins a growing number of centers in Lake County dealing with chemical dependency. Another arm in the arsenal of treatment, education and support facilities is most welcome.

Victory first offered comprehensive chemical dependency service in 1983. Today, a full range of programs for mind, body and spirit are available for both adolescents and adults. Modeled after the renowned Hazelden Foundation, the Victory program is based on the 12 steps of Alcoholics Anonymous.

It is ironic that in an area blessed with a wealth of treatment and support resources, drug and alcohol abuse still is prevalent. Sadly, that is the case. How many treatment centers does it take to turn the corner on the horrendous problem of substance abuse?

Wilton listens

Editor:

Finally, someone is seriously listening to the people of our area on the riverboat issue. The county board didn't listen. The township supervisor didn't. Antioch Mayor Bob Wilton originally came out strongly in favor of the riverboat casinos. But he has taken the time to consider the long term impact on our area, the serious economic questions, the environmental impact of the boats, and the many quality of life concerns. He has now reversed his position and takes a firm stand against the casinos. How long will it take for others to see that this doesn't belong in Antioch Township and doesn't belong in Lake County?

Subjugating people

Editor:

The suppressive form of government meted out by the USSR for decades is not really extinct; it has just moved to the United States and in particular northern Illinois.

Robert I. Sherman, Illinois director of American Atheist Inc., is again unhappy with the seal of the City of Zion. Sherman doesn't even live in Zion.

U.S. district court Judge James B. Zagle may not approve the seal. Our court system seems to have decided it will decide what we will and will not have, subject to Mr. Sherman's approval. Our court system feels that we as people, residents, family providers are intelligent enough to elect (for now) a president to lead our country, but incapable of deciding on a picture that appears on our municipal cars, letterheads, etc.

People wake up! The village of Rolling Meadows has already been subjugated by Mr. Sherman; Zion has not yet. Stand up for your God-given and Constitutional right to freedom of speech. Rob Sherman has. Whatever happened to our right to vote on issues pertaining to us and our city, town, village?

How can the court system take away our right to vote on a city seal? How can Robert I. Sherman, a non-resident, decide what is OK or not for the City of Zion? Let the residents of the City of Zion decide what their seal will look like not Rob Sherman or a court judge. If the people of Zion vote to mention God on their city seal so be it. It's their city.

I am not a resident of Zion and Mr. Sherman has not attacked my village, but I might be next. I believe in God and the power of the peoples vote and believe we, as citizens of this great country, should be allowed to use both.

People! Do not allow one man or one group, be they communist or atheist, to make decisions for you.

Ferry boats offer new tourist magnet for county

by BILL SCHROEDER

Charles "Charlie" Conrad. Remember that name. You'll be hearing a lot more about him if he is successful in expanding his second career—operating Lake Michigan ferry boats.

Conrad, 75, found retired life dull after selling a successful business manufacturing environmental test chambers. So he acquired three hulking lake ferry boats gathering rust in mothballs at Ludington, Mich. Conrad, a resident of Holland, Mich., returned the S.S. Badger to service last year hauling people and cars between Manitowoc, Wis., and Ludington, a 60 mile trip that takes about five hours.

Now the restless millionaire is considering establishing a run between Waukegan and Holland on one or both of his other idle ferry boats, the S.S. Spartan and the S.S. City of Midland.

Conrad is willing to put some more of his own money into the venture, maybe about $1 million. But he figures about $4 million more is needed to launch the project. Prospective investors please note: Charlie is only one area code (616) away.

Waukegan politicians and business types have jumped on the ferry boat band wagon in a hurry, seeing the arrival of the lake boats as bringing in happy Michiganders looking for a good time and places to spend money. They're probably right. What's in store for happy Lake Countians boarding an eastbound boat looking for a good time and places to spend money in Holland, Mich.? Glad you asked.

Holland is more than tulips and wooden shoes. There's an authentic Dutch village and a museum. The Lake Michigan beach is rated tops on the east shore. Holland's downtown renovation and revival has achieved national acclaim with shops and eating spots galore.

If Mr. Conrad and his associates are successful, chalk up another banner tourist attraction for Lake County. Here's hoping the new ferry boat route becomes reality.

PAID IN FULL—Grayslake officials no sooner had moved into their offices in the new village hall, a former bank building, when Mayor Marvin Smith announced that the place would be debt free Feb. 1. The marble-clad building was purchased for $552,000 and remodeled at a cost of $237,000 without a cent of property tax money. Accumulated surpluses were used for the acquisition and construction.

During a dedication and open house, Mayor Smith noted that the former village hall, now housing a museum, lasted almost 100 years. "I hope this building lasts as long," noted the mayor, who said he would take under advisement a wag's suggestion that a mortgage burning ceremony be held on the floor of the lobby. Grayslake will observe its centennial in 1995.

ALWAYS LOW KEY—Asked how he was able to get broadcasting celebrity Uncle Bobby Collins to serve as MC for his Feb. 5 fund raiser at the Country Squire, Sheriff Clint Grinnell was non-plussed and explained with a straight face, "Uncle Bobby sort of inherited me. He was a close friend of the previous sheriff, Mickey Babcox." The WGN morning fixture and Grinnell have Libertyville ties. Collins is a long-time resident of Libertyville where Grinnell was born and raised and served as police chief before taking over as sheriff from Babcox.

Inaugural ignites feeling of renewal in America

by TERRY LINK

It's yesterday all over again. There is a spirit throughout America that hasn't been felt since the 1960s. It's a spirit of hope...of togetherness...of people melting into one. President William Jefferson Clinton has rejuvenated the people of this great land, and the people of Lake County are joining in the celebration.

Lake County was well represented at the inaugural festivities.

The most memorable of all events was the reunion at the Lincoln Memorial, where young and old, rich and poor, black and white, male and female were brought together. We joined hands, looking beyond the color of a person's skin or a person's gender, and got along. We know, now, that the country is back in the hands of ALL the people, not just a few interest groups.

As we finished singing, half a million of us held candles and marched as our new first family rang a replica of the Liberty Bell. Fireworks exploded. Not only in the sky, but in our hearts. This is what

Commentary

America has been looking for the last 12 years. A reunion of American people.

The Illinois Democratic Party and labor unions hosted a party for the 600 Illinoisans who were attending the inauguration. All people mingled as equals, even former Gov. Jim Thompson was treated just like the rest of us, not like some celebrity.

Former Lake County Democratic Chairman Betty-Ann Moore threw a luncheon for the Lake County and suburban Cook County delegation which was followed later that evening with the Illinois State Society throwing a non-partisan party. This was a formal affair that turned out to be the society's best attended ever, with more than 4,000 in attendance, compared to 1,700 only four years ago. We were packed together like sardines, and the wait for food stretched to more than one hour. Even in these conditions, the crowd remained congenial.

Later the same evening, the Illinois Democratic Party threw a private reception for David Wilhelm, who is the new Democratic National chairman. This was a much more intimate gathering and we had the opportunity to talk with one another.

Excitement escalated as inauguration week progressed. Finally Wednesday arrived...the swearing in of the 42nd president of the United States, William Jefferson Clinton. I watched the historic event from a secured standing section from which I actually could see. The crowd reveled in our new president's speech and the poem, "On the Pulse of Morning," coined by Maya Angelou. A parade followed, then several open house gatherings given by various senators and congressmen. Now the finale with inaugural balls. The midwest ball was the largest of the 11 official balls, with 5,100 in attendance. It capped at about 1:30 a.m. with the appearance of our new president and first lady, who danced once, before retiring to their first night in the White House.

I called it a night, and awaited a new and exciting tomorrow.

Editor's note: Terry Link is Democratic chairman of Lake County.

Cut red tape

Editor:

Even though Bill Clinton has only been in the White House a few days, we've already seen a major positive development with implications for everyone who is a bank customer and/or borrower.

In support of President Clinton's recent Economic Summit in Little Rock, the American Bankers Assn. (ABA) has developed a program called "Cut the Red Tape." The program focuses on eliminating the costly, time-consuming burden that layer upon layer of regulations have placed on financial institutions.

Certainly there is a need for the fundamental bank regulations which guarantee bank safety and soundness. The public has a right to a secure banking system. However, one banking information services company has estimated that the cumulative stack of laws and regulations, changes and updates governing today's financial institutions exceeds 200,000 pages and is growing every day.

Putting an exact dollar figure on the burden is difficult. The ABA found that banks spent $10.7 billion in 1991—or 59 percent of our annual profits—simply keeping pace with industry rules and regulations.

At the Economic Summit in Little Rock, a focal point in discussions was a $30 billion economic stimulus package that would create jobs and get the economy moving again. At that summit, ABA President William Brandon suggested that an increase of only four percent in total loans could produce $86 billion in increased lending.

The problem is today's bankers are being locked out of many of their traditional lines of business by the punitive and cumbersome regulations that have sprung up in the wake of the savings and loan crisis. For example, "character loans," once a staple of bank lending, are now being regulated out of existence. More and more banks require a secondary source of repayment and at least three years of demonstrated business experience before approving a personal or business loan.

We urge the readers of this newspaper to write their congressmen and work for ways to cut the red tape and remove some of this excess regulation that will enable banks like ours to put our resources to better use and help get the national economy moving forward and helping the local economy as well.

Frank Mynard

Candidates are overnight experts

ELECTION WONDERS

Spring elections are a little more than two months away.

Candidates are asking our support for every job from mayor and village clerk to township supervisor and assessor.

Some are familiar faces and candidates. Many are incumbents. A few keep running every year in hopes of gaining a higher office. Others are nobody. They're one-issue candidates, who wouldn't know what the inside of the village or township hall looks like if weren't for picking up their nomination papers.

Surprisingly few candidates bother to attend a meeting of the body to which they seek election. Are they more expert than those who do the job every day or week?

It's true in Lake Villa Twp. where three slates are battling for the job held by Supv. Sue Hanson & Co. The same might be said for Wauconda Twp. where the reign of Jerry Beyer is ending his reign as supervisor.

The same for village races. Like the three-way ones involving Round Lake Beach Mayor Carl Scrimpf and the successor to Round Lake Park Mayor

Cole Akins.

In Fox Lake the four pretenders to Mayor Frank Meier's throne are sitting members of the village board. The same for the two Antioch trustees hoping to succeed Mayor Robert Wilton and two Wauconda board members vying for Mayor James Keagle's job.

MR. CLEAN AT WORK

Everyone's legislator is still fighting for the little guy.

I'm talking about former state Rep. John Matijevich (D-North Chicago). Gerrymandered out of office in a Republican remap following the 1990 census, he is now has an ex- in front of his title.

But he hasn't forgotten the voters.

Late last month John showed up again at a meeting of Citizens Against Safe Electricity (CAUSE). The grass-roots group is fighting Com Ed's plans to add a new high-tension line from Round Lake Beach to Antioch.

"Keep the pressure on," he told the crowd "You're right. Com Ed is wrong. Right will win."

Matijevich has personal experience about the effects of electro-magnetic fields. A child of a former office staffer was stricken with cancer. It was traced to living near a high-voltage power line.

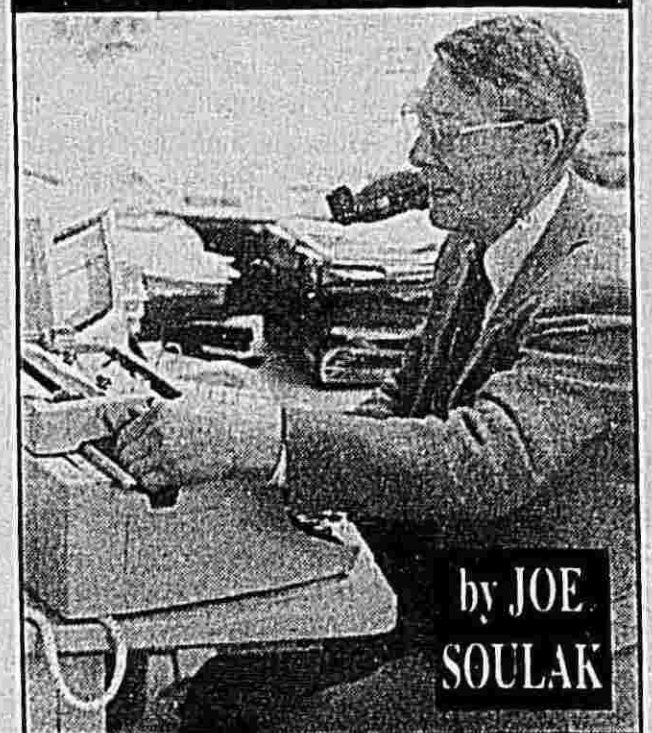

Now, Matijevich is a believer. He's not a Com Ed fan. The utility never gave him a dime in 25 years of elective office. You might call him Mr. Clean.

OVERHEARD/SEEN

★★★★ HILLSIDE—Among the big contributors to Gov. Jim Edgar's 1990 election campaign is Palumbo Brothers, a large road paving firm. The company is trying to gain a foothold in Lake County. It wants to be in a position to win contracts for the new Rte. 53. A Grayslake-area location is seen as ideal. Fox Lake wouldn't be bad, either. Both have zoning bids pending for siting of an asphalt plant. ★★★★★

GODD BEGINNINGS NEVER END Lakeland Newspapers

Winter time activities

by Marge Colclough

Now that the holiday festivities have ended, and the novelty of new toys has begun to wear, many parents may be hearing these comments from their children, "I'm bored. There's nothing to do." Parents as well as children may feel this way, especially since they may be experiencing cabin fever during these cold winter months.

But the winter months don't have to be boring. There are many exciting places to go that will interest everyone.

For the hearty outdoors family there are many beautiful parks such as Bowen Park in Waukegan, Lakewood Forest Preserve in Wauconda, and Ryerson Woods in Libertyville that provide a variety of fun activities from sledding, skating, to nature walks. The Chicago Botanic Garden in Glencoe offers a train ride through the park in addition to the beautiful walkways.

There are a variety of museums such as the Kohl Children's Museum in Wilmette, the Kraft Education Center at the Art Institute in Chicago, and the DuPage Children's Museum in Wheaton that offer hands-on, creative learning on a variety of topics for children of all ages. Of course, the Museum of Science and Industry and the Chicago Aquarium continue to offer hours of fun and interest suited for each person's taste.

Many families enjoy sharing cultural experiences such as children's theater and puppet shows. The Puppet Parlor in Chicago presents stories done with marionettes as well as an extensive gift shop. Marriott Lincolnshire presents several children's plays throughout the year. There is also time after the performance when the children have opportunities to talk to and question the actors. Stage Two in Waukegan offers music, dance, and mime performances on designated Saturdays throughout the winter.

For those who wish to be more active, the Discovery Zone in Vernon Hills provides hours of fun for children and adults as they get the opportunity to test their athletic abilities by climbing, jumping and rolling through an obstacle course.

And last but not least, are local libraries that offer story times for children as well as an endless supply of adventures waiting in their excellent books. Many children's bookstores, such as Crocodile Pie in Libertyville, offer special readings and activities for children.

With all the activities awaiting families, the winter doldrums can be changed to winter fun for all.

Parent/child story-time tips

by Pat Goodman

Parents can make good use of winter indoor time by snuggling up with their preschoolers and reading some wonderful books together. Here are ten must read books that three and four year olds love to read/hear over and over again: Curious

George, Caps for Sale, The Very Hungry Caterpillar, The Little Engine That Could, Are You My Mother?, Make Way For Ducklings, Mike Mulligan and His Steam Shovel, Good Night Moon, Brown Bear, Brown Bear and The Story About Ping.

Fun things to do with dough

by Charlene Ackerman

Cooked Dough

(Adult supervision needed)

- 1 cup flour
- 1/2 cup salt
- 2 tsp. cream of tartar
- 1 cup water
- 1 T salad oil

Mix all ingredients together in electric skillet. Cook on low setting until mixture is lumpy. Turn dough out on waxed paper. Knead when cool. This dough has an excellent quality. It keeps well and does not crumble.

Home made silly putty

Use equal parts of liquid starch to equal parts of Elmer's School Glue. Add food coloring, knead as bread dough until proper consistency is reached. Store in plastic bag or sealed container in refrigerator. This lasts for several weeks.

Child Care Choices

Chap. 4

Introduction

Every parent wants good quality, reliable care for their children. This booklet is designed to help you find it, to describe the many options available. It should help you understand the advantages and disadvantages of these options and give you practical advice to help you choose care that you and your child will be comfortable with.

Contents

1. Options for child care
2. Choosing the right child care
3. Some questions to ask child care providers (and yourself)
4. Adjustment to separation: saying goodbye and hello
5. Working together: creating cooperation
6. Monitoring your child's care
7. Health considerations
8. If you want to become a child care provider
9. Agencies and resources

Adjustment to separation: saying goodbye and hello

Saying goodbye to your child is difficult, even if you are confident that you have picked a fine caregiver. Remember that while babies adapt well to other caregivers, their primary emotional attachment is to their parents. You are the most important people in your child's life. The reaction at pick-up time shows that.

Prepare your child for the change in care as much as possible. Talk about it, the new people to meet, the new things to do and play with. Visit the center of day care home, or have a new caregiver meet the child at home.

If possible, stay with your child for a while the first few days, or even all of the first day when beginning a new child care arrangement. Often a favorite toy or blanket makes a new situation more comfortable for a child.

A picture of the family or a personal item belonging to a parent can also make your child feel more secure.

Be sure to say goodbye to your child when you leave—you don't want your child to feel deserted! Say that you will be back at pick-up time, and leave with a hug or kiss and a smile.

Some children may react to separation by crying or clinging to you. Others may forget their toilet training, wet their beds, suck their thumbs, or show resentment to you or other family members. Such understanding—not criticism—from parents and caregivers are normally enough to overcome such separation anxiety.

Your own anxiety at leaving your child will be relieved as you develop a relationship with the caregiver and feel comfortable that your child is being well cared for.

Dear Readers:

It is our pleasure to work with Lakeland Newspapers in providing you with child care information. This edition of Good Beginnings Never End features ideas for doing things with children; creative artwork, places to go and things to do. Chapter Four from our Child Care Choices booklet covers adjustment to separation. Let us know if you have a specific topic that you would like us to address.

Losing a limb or the use of a limb can be a traumatic experience. In many cases, patients, especially active ones, become depressed, moody, angry or cynical. Finding a way to jump back into society can be as easy as acceptance by others, or as difficult as self-acceptance.

Ray McKinney makes the transition into society easier, because for McKinney, braces and artificial limbs are a dream come true.

McKinney, 40, opened McKinney Prosthetics-Orthotics, Inc., 2634 Grand Ave., Waukegan, about eight years ago. This year, he added an office in Libertyville, Prosthetics-Orthotics Associates, 624 E. Park Ave., Suite C.

"We had so many people coming in from Libertyville, Lake Zurich, Vernon Hills, Wauconda area," said McKinney, Certified Prosthetist-Orthotist and owner and partner of the branches, "people suggested that I come and open one in that area."

"It seemed to be a natural progression. There was such a need, now people don't have to go to Waukegan, or Chicago or Milwaukee, they can go to a place in their own area."

The prostheses are state-of-the-art, according to McKinney. The company involves itself in continually updating information on new products.

"What distinguishes our company from another is that we're very active in the field," McKinney said. "If a product is new, you know we're trying it, whereas most places would wait years before it's tested out."

"We're working with it, and if we see a problem and we know how to fix it, we'll invent it," he said.

Prosthetics come in different forms, and McKinney indicated that he will try to invent and construct a limb that a patient wants.

Herman Ogren lost his leg in World War II. However, he is very active in outdoor sports, such as skiing and running. Ogren, a Kenosha, Wisc. resident, is a former biology professor of Carthage College in Kenosha. He knows the physiology of the body and has invented some of his own prostheses, according to McKinney. When Ogren began coming to McKinney, about 1 1/2 years ago, McKinney showed him a state-of-the-art prosthesis.

"Herman said he was going to take it for a test," McKinney said. "I thought he was just going to walk around a little. He came back two hours later, and said, 'I didn't calculate it, but judging from my time, I'd say that was about a 10 mile run.'"

"He took off the prosthesis and there wasn't a mark on him. He looked at me and said, 'I'd say that's a pretty good leg.' And if you can please Herman, you can please anybody," McKinney added.

Since then, McKinney has invented a ski-leg for Ogren by taking an artificial knee and inserting it into a prosthesis to make an ankle. The artificial knee is turned around so the ankle will bend correctly. McKinney said my applying weight on the ankle, the ankle will lock at an appropriate angle for skiing. Taking weight off the prosthesis, the leg will slip out of a ski-boot easily. Currently, McKinney is creating a shower-leg for Ogren, which will be made of PVC and acrylic to make it lightweight. Most prostheses are made of carbon and graphite, carbon for strength and graphite for a binding agent, to make the limb lightweight.

There is an on-site laboratory at the Libertyville location. Because the company works with the patient through every step, the laboratory is a convenience and allows patients to receive their product sooner. The on-site laboratory also helps patients feel more comfortable because they know the doctor also creates the brace or limb and teaches them how to use it.

"We do everything, from the initial consultation to the final brush stroke, if you will."

— Ray McKinney

"We do everything, from the initial consultation to the final brush stroke, if you will," McKinney said.

McKinney first became exposed to orthotics, or braces, when he was about 10 years old. His brother was a polio patient as a youngster and had to wear braces. McKinney's father was a printer, and couldn't get off work to take his brother in for repairs or adjustments. So McKinney did them at home.

"When I was about 10, I remember taking the screws out and adjusting the braces," McKinney said. As he grew older, he was exposed to prosthetics and orthotics in Vietnam.

In 1970, McKinney joined the army, was one of 14 people chosen in orthotics and prosthetics to work in Germany Hospitals. After the war, he finished his degree at Northwestern University. Seven years later, he opened his own business in Waukegan.

"It was like a dream come true," McKinney said.

And through his dream, Prosthetics-Orthotics Associates in Libertyville can help other people achieve their dreams.

Prosthetics-Orthotics in Libertyville is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. by appointment. In Waukegan, hours are Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Call 367-6572 or 623-6080 for an appointment or for more information.

Selecting a life insurance agent who will work for you

by D.N. CRAMPTON

Whether you are the head of a household concerned about protecting your family, a business owner sensitive to risk management and compensation issues within your firm, or one approaching retirement coming to grips with income and estate planning issues, the selection of an insurance agent or broker is almost sure to affect your actions.

Here is a check list that may be helpful in selecting an insurance advisor with whom you can work effectively.

First, you must be satisfied that the agent or broker is thoroughly honest and objective. You need to feel that the information he gives you is thoroughly compiled, complete and serves your needs, not his.

If you have been forthright with your agent in discussing your needs and capabilities, you should expect him to match your personal or business situation and your premium paying ability to carriers and products that meet your goals and aspirations.

Secondly, does your

prospective agent understand the dynamically changing landscape of the life insurance industry? Product changes occur often, as do changes in significant tax laws and financial conditions of insurance companies. You need to work with someone who recognizes the need to remain current in these and other relevant matters.

One criterion is the educational record of the agent. Is he or she a Chartered Life Underwriter, a Certified Financial Planner, an attorney or an accountant studying to achieve one or more of these designations? If not, ask enough questions to satisfy yourself that he is capable to steer you through these treacherous waters.

Third, satisfy yourself that the prospective agent's administrative capabilities are "up to snuff." Your life insurance program needs will likely change over the years.

Finally, after satisfying yourself that the agent is knowledgeable, honest, and objective, ask yourself if this is a person with whom you want to forge a relationship. Are you personally compatible? Are you comfortable with each other? Do you respect and, simple, like each other?

Editor's note: Donald Crampton is president of Crampton, Lewis and Co., Inc., Chicago. Questions are invited by writing This Way To Wealth in care of this newspaper or 2203 B. Lakeside Dr., Bannockburn, IL 60015.

Baxter adopts new accounting standard for retiree benefits

Baxter International announced that it will reflect in its 1992 financial results the adoption of the Financial Accounting Standards Board Statement No. 106 for retiree medical and life insurance benefits. This new standard requires companies to accrue costs for post-retirement benefits during employees' years of service. Previous accounting recognized these costs on a cash basis.

This accounting change will result in a one-time after-tax charge retroactively applied to the first quarter of 1992 of approximately $165 million, or 59 cents per share.

In addition, as required by accounting rules, Baxter will restate its previously reported earnings from continuing operations for the first three quarters of 1992 when it issues its 1992 year-end financial results later this month. The company's previously reported operating income for 1992 will decrease by approximately $5 million per quarter, reflecting the higher cost levels associated with the newly required accrual method. Adopting the new rule will reduce total 1992 earnings per share from continuing operations by approximately 6 cents.

IS the Lake County Board politics. The board wastes our money with needless arguing and expensive reports. Let's change the county board to five representatives and get our money's worth.

IS the entire Lake County school system. An overhaul in the way schools operate in the county would be a welcome change.

IS that the cops spend too much time at convenient stores. If they were doing what they were supposed to be doing, maybe some of this vandalism would stop.

Hang Up On Car Phones

My gripe is about car phone owners. I don't mind you having them, but I wish you were a little more careful. Last week, my husband was sitting at Hart Road and Rte. 134 in the Round Lake area when, you know who you are, almost ran into our car. You zipped around and ran the light. You almost hit our car because you were talking on the phone. You had better take a little more caution. I'm from Ingleside.

Consolidate Area

I just was reading about the consolidation of the four Round Lake communities. I think it would be a very good idea. That way, there could be some control over the waters on Round Lake. It would also be good for tax purposes.

Don't Sell At Night

I live in the Grant Twp. area. Big Hollow School is having its students sell candy for their activities. I have no fault with that; I think it's a good idea. What I'm griping about is that two little girls came separately and tried to sell candy — after dark. What these two girls were doing out after dark, is something I can't quite understand. Don't their parents read papers? There's a bunch of crazy people out there. They shouldn't let their girls be selling candy after dark.

Cultivate Deer

I was born and raised in upper Michigan. This is in response to the people who are complaining about the Ryerson deer cultivating. I lived in that area for 25 years and have seen a numerous amount of starving deer. Now, I agree that healthy deer browsing is a beautiful sight. However, if you were ever to snowshoe back into the area and see these poor animals starving, it's a completely different subject. I believe that the cultivating of deer in the Ryerson area is a good idea. The only other alternative is to go in and feed these animals, which is very, very expensive.

Caution Is The Key

I would like to respond to "Stranded In The Snow." Perhaps that reader would like to contact the superintendent of Grayslake High School's personal physician. The superintendent was off with a high fever and a chronic earache he's had for some time, and a sore throat. He was, however, up at 4 a.m., talking with responsible employees of the district in order to make a competent decision regarding having school that day.

Art Isn't Worthless

I'm shocked by the person who thought that art class is worthless. For some of us, this is the job field we are going into. I love art. It helps me relax after a long day. I think you had better get your act together.

Good Job, Dist. 95

I'm from Lake Zurich and I would like to commend Lake Zurich School Board Dist. 95 on its decision to adopt the anti-gang policy. I think it's a wonderful step in the right direction. More schools should be cognizant of the problems that are not only inner-city problems. They affect all of our children. Thank you.

Lack Of Responsibility

This is in response to "Who Is At Fault?" I say, you are. Your comments indicate your childishness and lack of ability to take responsibility for your actions and those of your children. That little girl may not have been intentionally hit by either sledder, but I'm sure cautiousness could have prevented both accidents. People don't have to get hurt when they go out playing, if those around them keep their eyes open and show consideration for others.

Call The Cops

In response to "Did You Make It Home?" I commend you and stand by your side. I also believe in designated drivers and not mixing drinking and driving. We also need to call the police when we are sure of an abuse of drunk driving.

ARC Misrepresents

I'm from Antioch Twp. and this is in response to the petitions that the ARC is circulating in the village. I was approached on Friday evening by a person in front of a video store to sign the petition. I am for riverboat gambling, but he refused to tell me that he was a part of the ARC. He sounded like he was for riverboat gambling. When I got home, I read the "Antioch Reporter" and found out that the petitions are being floated by the ARC. If I had known that, I never would have signed it. I intend on going to their headquarters and having my name removed from the petition.

Do Us, Yourself A Favor

Dear Registered Voters of Fox Lake: Do yourself and others a favor by asking the mayor and trustees if they are going to vote in favor of the proposed asphalt plant coming into our area. Then, ask candidates if they are going to vote in favor of the asphalt plant. Vote for the candidates that are against the asphalt plant. We need your help. The asphalt plant will affect all of us. We don't need an asphalt plant in Fox Lake.

What About Scenery?

Why do they want to put gambling casinos on boats? When people are gambling, they aren't looking at the scenery. Why not put it in a stationary building, and leave the lakes and rivers for the boaters and fishermen? Casinos are for more than making jobs. They are mostly for making rich people out of those who are running them. I'm not that foolish to go to them.

Too Many People

I'm from Antioch and I believe the main culprit is overpopulation, which, of course, causes crime, traffic, pollution, garbage and many other problems. The only way to keep things from getting worse is not to elect any pro-growth, high-density politicians.

Art Is Needed

This country spends far less on the arts than European communities do. Art classes, whether they be, theater, music and visual arts, are not worthless. They have great value to them, and they give students a great sense of accomplishment and understanding. Art, as a whole, brings definition to man.

Farewell, Grayslake!

The vacant storefronts on Center Street are not the only evidence of Grayslake's narcissistic attitude. After 30 years as a resident, I'm gone. The in-fighting and manipulative practices within and between the various boards is a public embarrassment. You think much better of yourself than you are. Farewell, Grayslake.

Give 'Em A Lump Of Coal

I'm from Round Lake Beach and one thing I don't like is the way they judge the Christmas decorating contest. They judge the contest only by looking at the pictures. They don't look at the houses themselves. It is an unfair advantage for the people with smaller houses. I think people should get together and tell the village board that this is not fair.

We Need Some Good News

I'm from Antioch. Some of you people who call in complaints and comments don't seem to have enough common sense to experience what life is all about. Nothing is 100 percent to anyone's liking. We all are victims of circumstances. How about calling in some good happenings of life?

You Wanted Good News?

I would like to applaud and let you know there are good people in this world. About a week ago, Gramp fell in front of our home, and I would have been unable to assist him in getting up. When all of a sudden, a gentleman, and I mean real gentleman, helped him up to the back door. There is no way I can repay him for his kindness, but I would like to have this printed in your paper and hope he reads it and knows how much we appreciate what he did. There are good people in this world. I'm from Round Lake Beach.

I'm A Hockey Fan — Not!

This is to the Blackhawk fan who said we should watch a "winning" team, rather than the Bulls, Bears, Sox and Cubs. If this person knew anything about sports, he would realize that hockey is one of the lowest-rated

Carole Stern, author of "Love Your Heart" cookbook series, cooks up to six meals at once because of her busy schedule. At right, she slices low-fat, low-cholesterol chocolate bread, and later spreads it with jam (lower left). Just below, Stern tastes homemade, low-fat, low-cholesterol soup she makes for another meal.—Photos by Gene Gabry

'Love Your Heart': Author gives love through health food

Instead of dining out for Valentine's Day, why not cook a meal at home, fast and easy, that is low in cholesterol, fat, and salt? Carole Stern offers many options to the eat-and-run-so-we-can-see-a-movie romance with her variety of healthy recipe books.

Growing up with a Mediterranean family, Stern has been eating healthy foods for years. Now she shares her success with the public.

Stern, of Libertyville, is the author of six recipe books, and currently is in the process of writing her seventh. All the books concentrate on "normal" foods, but with low-fat, low-cholesterol and low-sodium content.

Though many of Stern's recipes are her own ideas, sometimes she takes existing recipes and modifies them, so people have the pleasure of eating foods they like that are better for them.

"I have people who write in to me and send recipes asking me to convert them into low-fat," Stern said.

And some of those recipes include chocolate dishes.

Stern has an entire collection of recipes designed for the sweet-lover. She wrote a recipe book of sweets using Equal and also a dessert cookbook. But currently, she is concentrating on main dishes of varying backgrounds.

Stern's nationality is French. Though she speaks with a New York accent, a trace of her French heritage slips through. In her last book, "Love Your Heart Mediterranean Cookbook," Stern traveled to Paris and visited her uncle, a chef, for research and ideas.

Stern's uncle creates French and Italian dishes. Stern had to convert many of the recipes she received from her uncle into low-fat, low-cholesterol recipes, "because they don't worry about that as much over there as we do in the United States," she said.

Because of her busy lifestyle, raising three children and working full-time, Stern said she would cook three, four, five, even six meals at a time. By modifying or creating recipes which include short time factors, Stern was able to do that.

by HEATHER McDONALD

With the exception of holiday foods that are family traditions, Stern cooks and eats everything low-fat and low-cholesterol from her set of recipes.

Modifying recipes may take hours, or days, according to Stern. And creating a new one can take weeks. But creating recipes from scratch is how Stern began her career.

Having worked for 10 years at Searle Laboratories, Stern, a product manager, had access to Equal before it was marketed. She began experimenting with the product and compiled recipes using Equal. Eventually, it developed to the point where she was taking existing recipes and modifying them. Finally in 1985, Stern published three books containing recipes which use Equal. In 1990, she wrote and published the first Love Your Heart Cookbook, "Love Your Heart Low-Cholesterol."

But she published it under a penname: Carole Kruppa.

"It was my name before Stern," she said. "I knew every cardiologist in the country, and since we were publishing healthy books, my editor thought we should keep the name."

Though her interest began by experimentation, Stern's writing career has continued due to the demand, she said. With more and more people becoming health conscious, diet is an important aspect of maintaining one's health. And with Stern's food, nothing is lost.

Stern has tried Lean Cuisine, NutriSystem, and Weight Watchers, and could not believe the cost of the programs.

"My food is relatively inexpensive, because it's all homemade," she said.

"Americans in general are becoming more cautious with what they eat. I am a firm believer that Americans have had to change their habits to curb heart disease. To do that, they need to change their dietary habits, but they need help," she added.

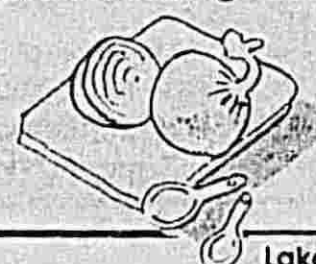

"The evidence is there, with heart disease, and now cancer. That fat intake is connected is pretty well established," Stern said.

Stern provides guidelines for healthy eating with her cookbooks, but she also gives through education. Stern teaches at David Adler Cultural Center. She started by teaching gardening, and began relating the gardening to cooking.

"You grow all these herbs and you know, what do you do with them?" she said. Her next class is Feb. 13, and will introduce the many uses for chocolate, "Glorious Chocolate," just in time for Valentine's Day.

"I became involved because I had gotten some classes together that I was going to teach somewhere else, and Sharon Askwith (art director) said let's do it here," Stern said.

Stern also entertains, which carries over into her forming ideas for recipes.

'Beauty and the Beast' make smooth transition on ice

Critic's Choice

"Beauty and the Beast," a popular cinematic success, makes a smooth transition in Walt Disney's World on Ice production, which runs through Feb. 7 at the Chicago Stadium.

Russian skater Victor Barichev, as Gaston, is breathtaking, whether doing a high-flying split or executing a daring backflip.

Similarly, Maradith Feinberg gives a good performance as Belle, ever so graceful as she glides along as if on air yet dynamic in her double flips and amazing spin combinations.

What's especially pleasing is that the sound track—often a testy business in a large auditorium—works like a charm. The music is clear and the voice-overs understandable.

In addition, the costumes are a colorful sight, particularly the dinner party scene ("Be Our Guest") peopled mainly by life-sized place settings enfolded by napkins.

The Beast costume itself is a bulky contrivance, but quickly embraced by the (mostly younger) audience.

And in an amazing example of synchronization, some scenes during the two-hour program are placed with as many as 34 skaters on the rink at one time—all without benefit of a traffic cop.—by Tom Witom falcons who fly off into the wind inevitably to return to the security of the nest.

Despite a fine cast, the characters as drawn, lack a flesh-and-blood feel. An attractive set and effective use of bird calls are nice touches, but even they aren't enough to bring this production, directed by Sandy Shinner, up to full speed.

Annabel Armour, as Lurline, is a brooding woman locked in conflict with a controlling brother out to sell the Alabama riverfront land she lives on, property the two inherited from their parents. As a countermove, Lurline tries to get the government to declare the site a protected nature conservation area, where she can raise her falcons.

In addition to worrying about an imminent uprooting, she's obsessed over a child she never got to raise and desperately tries to compensate by sheltering teenage runaways, taking them in like so many stray pups.

Joe Lauck as the grousing brother, Linda Kimbrough his pushy spouse, Becky Theater. Wahlstrom their strong-willed daughter and Mark Walker, the visiting runaway, give it their best shot.

"Spinning" runs through Feb. 25. For ticket information call (312)871-3000.—by TOM WITOM

Seniors visit 'Street Scenes' free

Carmel High School's "Street Scenes" invites senior citizens to a special free performance. The theme of this year's event is "Street Scenes Salutes Comics and Cartoons." Admission for this Feb. 7 performance is free to all area senior citizens.

Area seniors are encouraged to come and enjoy the Carmel students' polished, fun-filled performance of characters from the "World of Disney." The show will also include the melodious, pleasant pop songs of Kim Murphy. The noted, always popular quartet, Chicago Gear and Transmission Company will be another group performing for the seniors.

"Street Scenes" is a unique two-day gala event set in a night club atmosphere. The multi-stage event consists of music and comedy shows performed by polished professional, adult and student entertainers.

The acclaimed 19th annual event will be open to the public the evenings of Feb. 12 and 13. Doors open at 6:30 p.m. Admission is $12.50 per person. Adults invited: minimum age 21—alcoholic beverages will be available. Food, drink and the Midway games of skill are an additional, nominal cost.

Carmel High School is located on Rte. 176 on the east side of Mundelein. There is an entrance for the handicapped. For more information call 367-1684 or 566-3000.

'Spinning Into Blue' not up to full speed

"Spinning Into Blue," Sally Nemeth's new play premiering at Chicago's Victory Gardens Theater, is big on poetic monologue yet short on verisimilitude.

Nemeth paints some pretty word pictures with her chatty asides about freedom and

'Aladdin' top of Disney line

For those of you who haven't had a chance to take your kids, or just yourselves, to see the new Disney treat "Aladdin," we urge you to put it on the top of your "Movies to See" list.

Unlike "Beauty and the Beast," which this reviewer held in less esteem than most critics, this version of "Aladdin" is an old story that is as new as the 1990s.

Most of the credit for this goes to the character of the Genie, supplied vocally by Robin Williams.

The script and the Genie lead you through the updated fairy tale with the speed of light, or should we say, as fast as the camera lens can focus.

The animation is another glittering tribute to Disney Studios' expertise, ranking among old Walt's best.

The music, as in most Disney efforts, is top notch, with not only the entire score but, "A Whole New World" special award material.

The pace is as fast as Williams' usual comedy speed, with the comedian injecting much of his own popular personality into the Genie.

This is truly a movie for everybody, with the animation lively enough for the sharpest cynic.

We rate this one five out of five stars and if it doesn't get at least as many accolades as the overrated "Beauty" we will be disappointed.—by GLORIA DAVIS

Cruising Can Be A Family Affair

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

My memories of childhood vacations include our happy family of five piling into the Ford station wagon for a week of fun, excitement, and lots of compromises.

First, we all had to agree on where we were going to stop for lunch. Then, there was the debate as to which restaurant we would have dinner. By the time we were ready to stop for the night, the choice of motels became an all out war!

This need to compromise carried on through to all activities and sightseeing during the entire trip.

Not having to compromise may be one of the most attractive features of family cruising.

Today's modern superliners offer almost constant activities for all ages. All members of the family can do their own thing.

Dad and the boys may want to try trap shooting, or maybe practice their golf drive. Mom can try her luck at bingo, or maybe the slots in the casino if she feels really lucky. The girls can either head for the disco, or maybe an aerobics class or how about just lying around the pool and looking at all the cute guys.

If the kids don't want to eat with the adults, there's usually a pizza parlor or hamburger stand on the ship.

Even the youngest members of the family are not left out with their own kiddie pool, and youth counselors to help them with arts and crafts.

The cost of taking a family on a cruise may be less than you think, since regardless of which size cabin you choose, the third, fourth and fifth passengers pay the same low "extra person in cabin" rate. This puts the per person cost of even a suite within the range of many family budgets!

When you consider the cost of gas, food, entertainment, lodging, etc., you may just find a family cruise costing less than a trip to the Dells, and with a lot less family compromises!

Horoscope

★ ARIES (March 21-April 19) You reveal much more than you are aware of. This could be either good or bad, depending on how much thinking you put behind it. You certainly are mellow when the flak hits along with the full moon. You just think everyone else is looney tunes, not you.

★ TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You need to feel financially secure in order to feel okay, and you are most definitely on a mission presently to feel so right now. Talks are vital, and you view life differently by the end of the week. Get into the mellow and loving moments this weekend.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Understanding allows you to take action on what has been moving in your life, and your charisma, which peaks this week, gives you an added push. You really can't lose if you don't panic this weekend, when the full moon SEEMS to explode the best laid plans.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't think this week ends the way it begins. (Thank goodness!) Things only get better, though it's best not to take finances too much for granted. Your personality makes it all fall into place right before the critical moment.

★ LEO (July 23-August 22) If you weren't sure what being on life's roller coaster ride means, you are definitely destined to find out this week. You peak — or at least your natural energies are on high — this weekend. How you use them is your call.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22) Take responsibility early on in the week before it gets shoved (yes, shoved) down your throat. Success falls on you by the weekend either way, but how you weather the full moon depends A LOT on how good or how bad you have been.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22) Experimenting is right up your alley this week. Research just how far you can go and exactly how much expertise you need. Others bow to your power, and you feel you've got it made. You'll know for sure this full moon weekend.

★ SCORPIO (October 23-November 21) You crow all week long, you are so happy. Do check out a rumor around work, though. You need to know what is really happening, because push comes to shove soon enough, and a decision — a quick one at that — will have to be made.

★ SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21) Partners are very dominant this week, but you really don't mind. For once, the ball is out of your court. Others need to convince you, lure you, and make you take action, and you love the game. Go along with a change of plans this weekend.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19) Play the busy beaver this week, and get your work done whenever you have a quiet moment or two. It seems you are always in demand. Another wants and needs you. Do play it straight, though, or else expect explosions this weekend.

★ AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18) It seems you see more reasons to play than to work this week. At some point, it dawns on you that you've been putting off your responsibilities, and you charge into your work in a mad flurry of activity. You have fun this weekend, if you stay flexible.

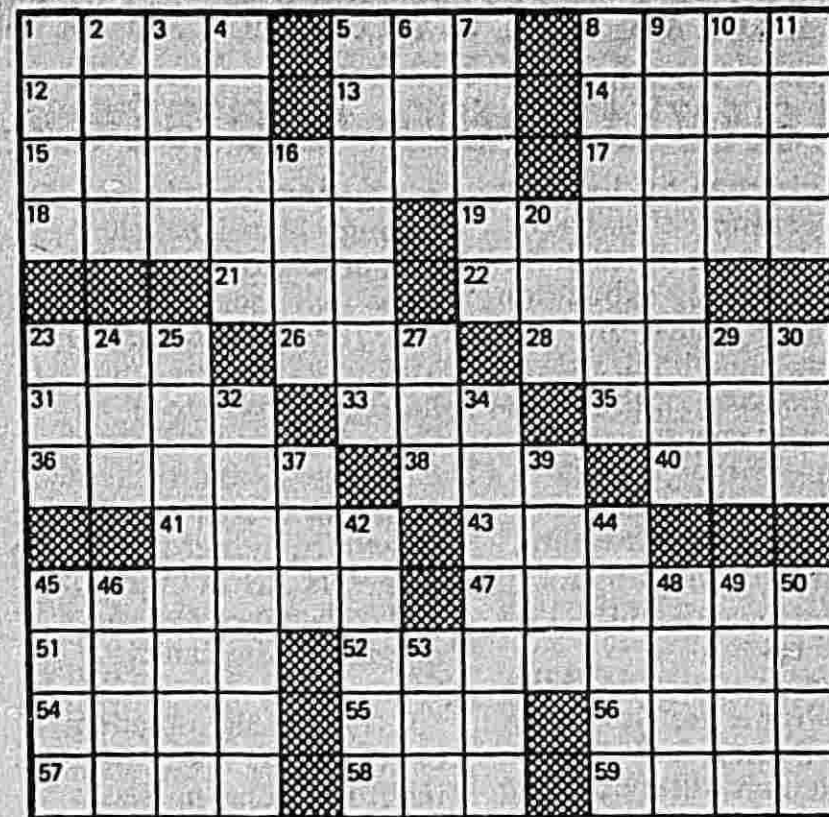

PISCES (February 19-March 20) Security is a high priority this week, but you do manage to squeeze in some fun and flirtation. You either have a relapse of a past case of spring fever, or you're off contracting a new strain of the malady. All play and no work doesn't cut it.

Giant creatures to invade Hawthorn Center soon

Suburban mall visitors may get more than they bargained for on their next shopping expedition. Looming amidst the clothing and book stores may be some of the largest creatures ever to live on earth—as the Chicago Academy of Sciences presents its special traveling exhibit "Dinosaurs and Whales: Giants of the Past and Present."

Sponsored by JMB Urban Properties Company, the exhibit is free to the public and will tour six shopping malls in the Chicago area through March 28. The highlight of the display is a group of life-size dinosaurs and whales that actually move and give off eerie sounds through the robotic magic of Dinamation International. Children and adults will thrill to the sight of these huge animals and they'll learn something, too, about the behavior and physical characteristics of these gentle giants.

"Dinosaurs and Whales: Giants of the Past and Present" will appear for a limited time only at the following malls: Feb. 5 through 14 at Fox Valley Center in Aurora, Rte. 59, three miles south of I-88; Feb. 19 to 28 at Louis Joliet Mall in Joliet, I-55 and Rte. 30; March 5 to 14 at Orland Square in Orland Park, Rte. 45 and 151st St.; March 19 to 28 at Hawthorn Center in Vernon Hills, Town Line Rd., and Milwaukee Ave. Admission to the exhibit is free.

The Chicago Academy of Sciences is a non-profit institution and museum dedicated to increasing the public understanding of science. "Dinosaurs and Whales" is a temporary traveling exhibit of the Academy. At its public museum in Lincoln Park next to the zoo, the Academy offers special exhibits on the natural sciences and conservation, weekend workshops for children and families, lectures, and field trips to local wilderness preserves.

The museum is located at 2001 N. Clark St. at Armitage. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. seven days a week, and admission to the museum is $1 for adults, 50 cents for children and seniors. For more information about the Academy's exhibits and programs, call (312)871-2668.

Ballet coming to town

Lake County Community Concert Assn. presents the New York Theatre Ballet at Waukegan High School auditorium on Feb. 20 at 8 p.m. Known for its strong technique, the troupe will present Donald Mahler's "Cinderella," an elaborately told story complete with wicked step-sisters, fairy godmother, magic slippers, and charming prince. For ticket information call 623-3178.

Hot off the press

Looking for the perfect gift, the Lamb's Women's Board has the answer. It's their latest fund raising project to benefit the men and women of Lambs Farm, a community providing vocational training and residences for nearly 190 mentally handicapped adults.

Jensen House: 'You won't be disappointed'

Bernd Jung credits his success as a restaurateur to "courteous and hard-working" employees.

But the reputation of the Jensen House Restaurant rests equally upon quality food, an enjoyable country setting and reasonable prices. And don't forget the beverages!

"We offer a fine selection of imported wines and beers," said Jung, owner of Jensen House. "You'll find everything you need for a memorable dining experience."

Jensen House is at 1185 Main St. in Antioch on the former estate of Dr. George Jensen. The restaurant is open for breakfast and lunch from 6 a.m. until 3 p.m. Mondays and Tuesdays, and for breakfast, lunch and dinner from 6 a.m. until 9 p.m. Wednesdays through Sundays. The restaurant can accommodate up to 80 guests for special occasions.

But no matter what the occasion, Jung said, you'll be pleased with the menu.

Jensen House features European home-cooking, although patrons will find many favorite American foods. The selections include omelettes and stuffed French toast for breakfast, homemade soups and croissant sandwiches for lunch, and wiener schnitzel, pork tenderloin, and roast duck with bread dumpling as dinner entrees.

Each entree comes with a choice of sauerkraut or red cabbage, soup or salad, and plum cake or German chocolate cake for dessert. Ribs, chicken, seafood, steak dishes, and "unique sausages," Jung said, are also available.

Jensen House offers dining specials throughout the week. For example, a chicken liver dish is available Saturday and Sunday. On Sundays, you can treat yourself to an English "scrambler" breakfast of English muffins, sausage, and scrambled eggs with hollandaise sauce. The restaurant features several blackboard dinner specials Wednesdays through Sundays.

No matter what your menu choice or when you dine, however, Jung promised food preparation second to none. Jung boasts more than 25 years of experience in German-American cuisine, and his staff includes veteran French chef Patrick Louineau and pastry chef Chris Rogge, a recent graduate of the Culinary Institute of New York.

"Come visit us," Jung said. "You won't be disappointed."

The Jensen House Restaurant is at the intersection of Route 173 and Highway 83. For information, call the restaurant at 395-6474.

Retirement plans will be playing to new rules

by BOB FRIEDERICH

If you participate in an employer-sponsored retirement plan, such as a profit sharing plan, 401(k) or money-purchase pension plan, you'll be playing by a new set of rules in 1993.

Specifically, the game plan calls for several changes in the way lump sum distributions are handled. Under current law, when an employee retires or changes jobs, he or she can take receipt of the lump sum distribution and within 60 days roll the money into an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) to avoid penalties and taxes. As of Jan. 1, 1993, employees will be required to transfer their lump sum distributions directly from one plan to another, without taking receipt of the funds, in order to avoid taxes and penalties.

A transfer may involve your employer either wire transferring the distribution directly to your new retirement plan trustee or mailing a check to the trustee. The check may also be given to you for delivery to the new retirement plan trustee. However, if the check is made payable to you, rather than to the trustee, it would constitute taking receipt of the funds and could cost you dearly.

Beginning in the new year, any distributions taken by an employee from a qualified retirement plan will be subject to 20 percent federal income tax withholding unless the distribution is transferred directly into an IRA by the employer. If the individual is under age 59 1/2, there may also be a 10 percent penalty for early withdrawal.

For example, let's assume you change jobs taking receipt of a $25,000 lump sum distribution from your employer's profit sharing plan. The plan administrator is required to withhold 20 percent, or $5,000, for federal income tax. This means you will receive only $20,000. However, the full $25,000 is taxable income in the year you receive it. In addition, if you are under age 59 1/2, you may be subject to a 10 percent premature distribution penalty. Remember, the $5,000 withheld represents additional taxes you paid for the year and will be a credit on your tax return.

Let's take this a step further. You would still have the option to roll your distribution into an IRA within 60 days. However, you would need to replace from other assets the $5,000 withholding. If this were not possible, and you could only roll over $20,000, the $5,000 would be considered a taxable distribution and would be subject to income taxes as well as a possible early withdrawal penalty. Again, to avoid taxes and penalties altogether, your plan administrator can directly transfer your entire $25,000 lump sum distribution to an IRA or other qualified plan.

It's very important to note that IRA distributions are not affected by these rules. Only distributions from employer-sponsored plans, such as profit-sharing plans, 401(k)s and money-purchase pension plans, are involved.

The changes in lump sum distributions are confusing at best, and they can be costly for those who misunderstand them. If a lump sum distribution is in your future, see a tax professional to make sure you don't end up needlessly sacrificing a penny of the retirement benefits for which you've worked so hard.

Investigate before borrowing

If you've been postponing putting that addition on your home or buying new living room furniture, consider this: Over the past year, banks and other lenders have substantially reduced the interest rates on loans. As a result, borrowing money for a special project or purpose has become more manageable. However, as the Illinois CPA Society points out, smart borrowers should carefully investigate their financing alternatives before making any purchasing and borrowing decisions.

Cost of credit cards

The lowering of interest rates by the Federal Reserve Board, and subsequently banks and other lenders, generally has not been reflected in the rates charged by credit card issuers. Even if you are one of those individuals who is deluged with offers to use various bank credit cards, chances are the interest rates on these cards are much higher than the rates charged on some bank loans. Don't forget, too, that the interest you pay on credit card balances is no longer tax-deductible. These are two reasons to show self-restraint when it comes to purchasing items on a credit card.

How much interest you're actually paying depends, in part, on the credit card issuer's method for computing interest. Many companies charge an annual percentage rate using the adjusted balance method. This means you are charged interest on what you owe after subtracting your payment from the previous balance. Another way of computing interest and one that is less favorable to you is the previous balance method. With this method, you are charged interest based on your balance at the end of the previous month, regardless of any payments made during that month.

Some credit card issuers charge you interest based on your average daily balance. The credit card issuer will add your balance each day, divide it by the number of days in the billing period, and charge you interest on the average balance.

Be sure you take the time to compare your cards' interest rates, methods for computing interest, annual fees and grace periods with those of other cards. Depending on the size of your average balance, a difference of even one-and-a-half percentage points in interest rates can save you over one hundred dollars during the course of the year.

Home equity loans

Adding a bedroom to your house? The job may cost more money than you have in the bank or more than you care to withdraw from your savings. However, that's no reason to rethink your remodeling plans—just your financing options. Expanding or renovating your home may warrant the use of a home equity loan. In most instances, you can borrow up to 80 percent of your home's value, less the balance on your mortgage. What's more, interest rates on these loans are likely to be significantly lower than the rates offered by credit card issuers, and the interest paid on home equity loans of up to $100,000 is generally tax-deductible.

Keep in mind that a home equity loan usually involves paying closing costs to the lender, just as you did when you first purchased your house. However, you don't have to go to your current mortgage lender to obtain the loan. Shop around for a competitive interest rate.

Be aware that if you use the proceeds of your home equity loan for purposes other than those related to homeownership or home improvements, you may be subject to the Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT), since the related interest expense is not deductible for AMT purposes.

Personal loans

If you're having trouble paying off your debts, you may want to consider taking out a personal loan to consolidate them. However, be aware that while personal loans are a valuable source of credit, they tend to be an expensive way to borrow money. The interest rates on personal loans can be several percentage points higher than the interest rates on home equity loans.

Know credit limits

Before borrowing any funds, be sure you consider all financing options for the item you want to purchase. Depending on the item and how quickly you plan to pay off the debt, you may be able to borrow money without incurring hefty finance charges.

Bond rates—the long and short of it

by MARC LUBKEMAN

Long-term bonds, those with maturities of 20 to 30 years, have surged in popularity as the spread between short- and long-term Treasury rates widened to all-time highs in recent weeks. The gap currently stands at roughly 4.6 percentage points, or $460 a year on a $10,000 bond.

With short-term interest rates at their lowest levels in recent history, the temptation to flock to these higher rates can be tempting. It's important to remember, though, that the best investment is not always the one paying the highest yield. An individual who invests solely in long-term bonds sacrifices flexibility and runs the risk of losing a portion of his or her principal if the bonds are sold before maturity.

The value of long-term bonds is particularly sensitive to interest-rate changes. If rates rise by just one percent, the price of a long-term bond may fall as much as 10 percent. If you have to sell your bonds before maturity, you can end up losing a significant portion of your principal.

Short-term bonds offer liquidity not available on long-term securities, but they also have risks of their own. As many investors have discovered over the past two years, when short-term bonds mature and the proceeds have to be reinvested in a security paying a lower rate, interest income significantly declines.

It's a fact of life that interest rates will fluctuate over time. What isn't so clear-cut is exactly when they'll fluctuate, in what direction or how much. Therefore, it's important to build a portfolio of bonds that will perform well in a variety of economic conditions. One way to achieve this is by a strategy of laddering bond maturities.

Laddering involves investing in a series of different bonds with successive maturities, from short term to long term. This strategy enables investors to minimize risk while maximizing return. If interest rates go up, you have short-term bonds coming due and have money available for reinvestment at higher rates. On the other hand, if interest rates decline, the longer term portion of your portfolio will have locked-in rates, thus protecting part of your income.

Laddering does not eliminate the risk of interest-rate fluctuations, but it does allow you to earn dependable income over many years and still have money available when you need it. In the long run, you'll minimize risk without sacrificing return.

Investors frustrated with CDs

Today's retirees, and others who are counting on their nest eggs to provide from them, are frustrated and angry. They feel that the banks are taking advantage of the economy to create obscene profits.

A local retiree was quoted as saying, "The bank is still charging over 17 percent on credit card balances, and paying me a lousy 3.1 percent on my CD! This is unfair. I have worked my whole life, and always taken care of myself. Now, in the last three years, I have seen all my expenses go up, and my CD income drop to less than half of what it was! The banks should be ashamed of themselves. How am I going to make it?"

The feelings of this woman seem to be universal when people are asked about this touchy topic.

Although CD's are insured by an agency of the U.S. Government, and alternatives may not be, people can do much better with their savings.

As with anything else, knowledge is the key.

A free report called, "The Little Known Secret to Beating CDs," has been made available for the first time. The report explains, in simple language, the almost unheard-of method to take care of yourself, and tells you how to stop being at the mercy of the banks. General tax tips for the newly divorced

A recent divorce or separation may have caused major changes in not only your lifestyle, but your taxes as well. The following are a few general guidelines and tax tips to assist you at tax time:

Choose the correct filing status

Your marital status is important in determining which status you will file. You may file as "single" if you are unmarried and obtained your divorce, legal separation (determined by state law), or annulment by the end of your tax year (usually December 31). You generally may file as "head of household" if you are unmarried at the end of the tax year or are married and lived apart from your spouse the last six months of the tax year, and you kept up a home for your child (listing the child's name on the return) or, if you are unmarried, for the person for whom you can claim as a dependent. Couples not divorced by year end may be able to file a "joint" return (married filing joint status), or separate returns (married filing separate status). Figure your tax both ways to make sure you are using the method that will result in the lower tax.

Exemption amount increases for 1992

You are allowed to deduct $2,300 for yourself and each person you can claim as your dependent for the 1992 tax year. An exemption for your spouse is allowed only if you are married and file a joint return with your spouse, or you file a separate return and the spouse had no gross income and was not a dependent on another person's return. You must list the social security numbers of all dependents who turned one year old by the end of the tax year.

Who gets to claim the kids?

There are several tests a parent must meet to claim an exemption for a child. A child's exemption usually may be claimed by one of the parents (not both) if the child had gross income of less than $2,300 for 1992 or that child is under 19 or is a student under 24. Generally, the parent who provided more than half the child's support is allowed to claim the dependent's exemption. The parent who has custody of the child for the greater part of the year is generally treated as the parent who provided more than half the child's support. If neither a divorce decree nor agreement establishes custody, then the parent who had physical custody for the greater part of the year is considered to have custody of the child. The custodial parent can release the exemption to the non-custodial parent by signing a written declaration, Form 8332, "Release of Claim to Exemption for Child of Divorced or Separated Parents," or similar statement. Alimony is income for one—deductible for the other

Alimony or separate maintenance payments you make to your spouse or ex-spouse under a divorce or separation agreement are tax deductible. You do not have to itemize deductions to claim alimony payments. Alimony or separate maintenance payments that you receive must be reported as taxable income to you. You do not deduct child support payments that you make. You do not include, in income, child support payments that you receive. Legal fees you pay may include deductible and nondeductible charges

You should request a breakdown showing the amount charged for each service performed. Legal fees and court costs for getting a divorce are not deductible. However, you may deduct legal fees paid for tax advice in connection with divorce, and legal fees to get alimony that you must include in gross income. You may also deduct fees you pay to other professionals, such as appraisers and accountants, for services in determining the correct amount of your tax or in helping to obtain alimony. If you itemize deductions, you may claim the deductible charges, subject to the 2 percent of adjusted gross income limit.

Remember to change your tax withholding with your employer in '93

You will usually have to file a new Form W-4. (Cont'd. on page 39)

Six steps for perfection in filing tax returns

Use the six steps below to help you prepare your return. Start early, to allow time to get missing information or forms you need to complete your return. If you follow these steps and read the instructions in your tax package, you'll fill in your return quickly and accurately.

1. Get all your records together; these include income records (such as W-2 and 1099 forms and bank interest earnings statements) and records for certain deductions and tax credits (medical and dental payments, real estate tax receipts, mortgage interest payments, child care payments).
2. Get any forms, schedules, and publications you need. Look through the forms you have in your tax package to see if you have all you need. If your tax situation has not changed, check your last year's return for the kind of forms you used.
3. Fill in your return; use your tax package or forms instruction booklet to help you properly complete your forms.

4. Check your return to make sure it is correct. Go over your return more than once. You may even want someone to look it over. You won't want to miss a tax benefit you are entitled to or have an error delay your refund. Your tax package has a list of common mistakes you should watch for.
5. Sign and date your return. It is not valid without your signature (and your spouse's if filing jointly).

6. Attach all required forms, schedules AND PAYMENTS. W-2 forms and other income statements showing federal income tax withholding are placed in front of the tax return (1040, 1040A, or 1040EZ). Forms 1040 and 1040A are followed by all schedules and other forms in order by the "attachment sequence number," shown in the upper right corner of the schedule or form. If you owe tax, be sure to attach your check or money order (made payable to the Internal Revenue Service) to the front of your return, on top of the W-2s.

Tax tips

"Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate," with your employer when you become divorced or separated. Changes in income, deductions, exemptions, or filing status during 1993 may require you to change the amount of tax withheld or begin to make estimated tax payments. For instance, if you are single, divorced, or legally separated, you must claim single status on your Form W-4. If you receive alimony or other payments which are not subject to withholding, you may have to ask for additional withholding from your wages or make estimated tax payments. IRS Publication 504, Divorced or Separated Individuals, contains specific details on the subjects as well as tax rules on property settlements, IRAs, and other topics which affect divorced persons. Ask for a free copy by calling 1-800-829-3676.

10 commandments of wise investing

Tax help for hearing impaired

Not only can deaf and hearing-impaired taxpayers read in Internal Revenue Service publications about certain tax deductions they are allowed, but they can also call the IRS toll-free for answers to their federal tax questions.

Throughout the United States, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands, deaf and hearing-impaired taxpayers can use their Telecommunication Device for the Deaf (TDD) equipment to dial up an IRS employee trained in TDD operation. These taxpayers can get answers to all types of tax questions, such as deductions for TDD equipment, hearing aids, cost and care of hearing ear dogs and cost of sending children to special schools. They can also get information about bills or notices they receive from the IRS.

For tax assistance, TDD equipment users in all states, including Alaska, Hawaii, the U.S. Virgin Islands, and Puerto Rico, can call 1-800-829-4059. Only deaf and hearing-impaired taxpayers with access to TDD equipment can get tax help on this toll-free number. The hours of operation are listed in the tax package.

While an increasing number of men and women are becoming more financially savvy about investing their money, far too few make educated decisions, resulting in money that is not working as hard or smart for them as it could be.

The solution? Educate yourself before investing. Following are the "Ten Commandments of Investing."

1. Never invest with family and friends. It is extremely difficult to fire a relative or a friend if things don't work out, experts say.
2. Know the time horizon of your investment. In other words, will you be using this money 20 years from now for retirement or in five years to buy a home? Experts emphasize: Never invest short-term money.

3. Do not believe everything you read and hear about investments. Advertising is a way to stimulate your appetite. Before investing, thoroughly check out the investment being promoted.

4. Know the financial solvency of the company that employs your investment advisor. Financially weak companies put your investments in jeopardy.

5. Check out your broker or financial advisor. Length of professional experience does make a difference, experts say. Let the inexperienced broker practice on someone else.

6. Return of your money is just as important as return on your money. Do not be enchanted by get-rich-quick investments.

7. Understand the risks involved in investing and use it to your advantage. Remember, the cost of living will double in 10 years, experts claim. A totally conservative approach may not be wise, yet it is a path followed by many.

8. Run away from anyone giving you a "tip" on the market. Period. Most of the time, these do not pan out, experts say.

9. Start investing as soon as possible, preferably in your 20s or 30s. So often, people have to lower their standard of living in their golden years because of poor planning.

10. Don't just stuff those brokerage statements in your drawer—read them. If you have trouble understanding them, call your broker.

Easing Your Tax Burden

Changes which can have an effect on taxes

There are a number of changes which can have an effect on your taxes this year. One change that will certainly save you time and effort is modification of the tax tables in the Form 1040 instructions. They now cover taxable income up to $100,000, so if you file the Form 1040, you will not have to calculate your taxes if your taxable income is over $50,000 as you did last year. These changes are also outlined in your tax package and in Publication 553, "Highlights of 1992 Tax Changes."

Both the personal exemption and the standard deduction are indexed for inflation and have once again been increased. For 1992, the personal exemption is $2,300 (up from $2,150 for 1991). If you can be claimed as someone else's dependent, you will not be able to take the personal exemption on your own tax return.

There has also been an increase in the standard deduction for 1992 (used by those who do not itemize). The standard deduction for single individuals has been increased to $3,600 from $3,400 last year. For married filing jointly, it has been increased to $6,000 from $5,700. The standard deduction for head of household and married filing separate returns are $5,250 and $3,000 respectively (up from $5,000 and $2,850 last year).

Your standard deduc-tion is more if you are over 65, blind, or both. In addition, some high income individuals may lose all or part of their personal exemptions and deductions. More information is available in Publication 501, "Exemptions, Standard Deductions, and Filing Information." If you are not sure where you fit in, call our information number (312)435-1040 or check with your tax advisor.

A number of tax breaks expired on June 30, 1992. Employees who get financial aid for education as a fringe benefit for courses not directly related to their job must pay tax on the aid received after June 30. Self employed people will not be able to separately deduct 25 percent of their health insurance premium for the period after June 30. These changes are spelled out in greater detail in Publication 553 and the instructions for your tax forms.

There is an important change for those of you claiming residence interest deduction involving a seller-financed mortgage. The buyer must now include the seller's name, address and tax identification number on Schedule A, and the seller must include the same information for the buyer on Schedule B.

Another change is in mileage rates. The business mileage rate for 1992 increased to 28 cents. This amount is for all miles driven on business. If you use your car for medical and moving expenses the rate is 9 cents; and for charitable activities, 12 cents. Be sure to keep a log of mileage and expenses in case we ask you for it. Check out Publication 463, "Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses" for more information on mileage and other business expenses.

Again this year,

Medicare and social security taxes will be shown separately on your W-2 forms. If you worked for more than one employer, you may have excess social security tax payments which should be credited to your income tax withholding or added to your refund. Use the worksheet in your tax package if this applies to you. — by Marilyn W. Day, IRS District Director for northern Illinois

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear Search: I am writing to you basically to get something off my chest. I was at a party weeks ago when one of the guests was saying that she was a single parent and hasn't had a job in years. She sat there and bragged that she could stay at home, collect public assistance as well as unemployment benefits and that she has a great apartment, gets groceries, and many other "perks" as she called them. She added that she didn't feel as though she was hurting anyone. I listened and began taking mental notes. Aware of my amazement, she asked if I thought less of her for thinking that way. That is when I jumped on my "soap box". I told her that no matter how warped I thought she was in her thinking, the way that she chose to live her life is her business and that I somehow felt pity for her that she wanted nothing better out of life. However, now it has affected me directly because I am one of those hard working individuals who works 40 hours per week, takes care of my two school age children as well as keeping up with the housework and grocery shopping. I juggle after school programs, car pools, birthday parties and homework, and each and every week that goes by, I thank my lucky stars that I am employed, able to put food on the table, provide a happy home for my children, but most importantly...setting a good ethical example for my children. When there are so many unfortunate people in the world who are legitimately looking for work, wanting to work, needing and wanting more for their families and then you hear this story of bucking the system, sitting at home doing nothing and "living off of Uncle Sam", I told her I definitely have a problem with her concept of living. She is living off of me and others just like me. I asked her how long she felt she could get away with it. Her reply was...as long as I can! I am pleased to say, I made some telephone calls today to government offices to find out how wide spread this sick concept of "freebie living" (as it was referred to) is in my county. I was very surprised to hear the response of the personnel at these agencies. Their attitudes were basically that their hands were tied! They went on to say that unless people turn others in that they feel are defrauding government programs how are they to know. So guess what I did? You guessed it. I relayed my conversation to the Department of Unemployment Security as well as the Department of Public Aid and Welfare. Both case workers at these offices were very aware of this individual and had enough to go on to immediately stop all assistance and call her in before a review board. Do I feel bad for having done it? NO WAY! With the amount of taxes I pay to the government with each of those 40 hours that I work, I realize that it is going somewhere. I feel I need to at least do my part to help curtail the situation. I hope that you will print this letter. Perhaps there are others out there who have encountered someone with the same non-working ethics. Turn them in...it's for their own good! Thank you. T.S.-Waukegan

A: Dear T.S. I have printed your letter in hopes that it will make others open their eyes. The assistance programs set up by our government are to give aid where needed. These programs should not be abused. When they are abused, it only makes it more difficult for those truly in need to obtain assistance. There are those persons on these programs now who strive every day to make things better for their families and unfortunately there are those who get used to it. I commend you for wanting to make a difference and urge you to write to Governor Edgar in Springfield with any ideas you have. Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Grange. Letters can be sent to Nancy c/o Lakeland Newspapers, P.O. Box 268, Grayslake, IL 60030

OVERALL DIMENSIONS: 104'-0" X 62'-0"
LIVING: 3498 square feet
GARAGE: 849 square feet

BARD (332-223)
By Landmark Designs, Inc.

BARD
The second thing you notice about the Bard, after its grand proportions, is the lofty arched entry portico, supported by regal brick columns. Graceful arched side openings create a colonnade effect that extends a welcome worthy of royalty. Brick detailing on the chimneys and wainscoting adds to the street appeal.

Inside, the Bard is spacious and bright. Vaulted ceilings add to the feeling of openness in the entry, living room and owners' suite. Flames in the see-through fireplace can be enjoyed from the living room and the dining room.

Skylights illuminate the sumptuous owners' suite - an adult retreat, large enough to include a bayed sitting area that faces across the large, L-shaped deck. His and hers walk-in closets provide plenty of storage space. Amenities in the skylit private bathroom include an oversized shower and a garden tub. A second basin is in the dressing area, and the security system is by the door.

A large family room and a small office are down a half-flight of stairs to the left of the foyer. This space is completely outfitted for entertaining, with a wet bar, range and oven and refrigerator, not to mention a fireplace and entertainment center. A full bathroom and stairs to the basement are also on this level.

The skylit kitchen has everything, including an appliance center, a pantry, dishwasher, freezer and trash compactor. Cooktop, eating bar and double ovens are all built into the central work island. Bay windows brighten and expand the eating nook.

Next to the kitchen is a "swing" room - a room you can use for anything. It could house the family computer or be a sewing room, hobby room, or studio. Features in the generously sized utility room include skylights, cabinets, counters, a deep sink and a fold-down ironing board. A bathroom, complete with shower, is tucked into an alcove next to a three-car garage with a work bench, storage space and a recycling center.

Three bedrooms and a compartmentalized bathroom with dual vanities are on the upper level.

For a study plan of the BARD (332-223), send $7.50, or for a plan book featuring all of our 1992 DREAM HOMES, send $6.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering).

PET PARADE

Are you a responsible pet owner?

Every year millions of animals are born. Every year, across the land, millions of animals die of abuse or neglect. Overcrowded animal shelters are one visible example of the misery of these animals. Even the more fortunate ones, the ones with homes, are not always taken care of in a responsible manner. February is Responsible Pet Owner's Month. Let's take a look at what it takes to be a responsible pet owner.

Whenever I speak to school children about pets and their needs, I always ask the children to tell me what they believe is necessary for one to be well cared for and happy. "Tell me," I ask, "what it is that you need to be happy? Your pet's needs are similar." Among many answers some are very consistent. A roof over one's head, a shelter protecting one from rugged weather (whether it be a house or a dog house), is always mentioned. Adequate food and fresh water to drink, as well as love and affection, are usually toward the top of the list.

Children also recognize the need for regular medical attention, including regular health check-ups along with necessary vaccinations. They believe that this will assure freedom from disease.

Children are able to recognize the components of responsible pet ownership, based on their own needs. Let's hope that through proper education, the idealism of children may be realized in the way we all treat our pets.

If you allow your pets to reproduce, be sure that the offspring are well cared for and that they go to good homes. Remember that that precious tiny newborn and playful "toddler" will grow up very quickly, and will need responsible care throughout its lifetime. Therefore, responsible ownership suggests that, to prevent accidental breeding, you should have your pet neutered.

Pet ownership is very fulfilling and rewarding, but it carries with it the need for responsible actions. Be happy with your pet, let him be happy with you, give him a safe and healthy environment, and you will have a wonderful friend for many years to come!—by DR. K. Gurnee Pet Clinic

Mill Pond preserves historic ambience of Long Grove

Twenty years ago, Sherman Gerber, architect and developer, visited the town of Long Grove as a prelude to designing and building a shopping complex there. He was charmed by the place. Like Brigadoon, its charm made him feel as though he had been transported to a different time.

Gerber soon found that the ambience was not accidental, it had been purposefully preserved and maintained. Some of the original 150 year old buildings still stood. Others has a similar antique character. The Village of Long Grove has developed a progressive plan to make time stand still.

Interested in preserving the rural, 19th century crossroads area of town with its small shops and country stores, the residents of Long Grove in 1960 were successful in having the State of Illinois designate this architectural treasure its first historic district.

Mill Pond opened in 1974. It is an anomaly among shopping centers. For Gerber, the design and building became a labor of love. How else can he explain personally hand constructing a sixteen foot diameter water wheel with an antique draw knife to add authenticity to the building? Or bringing the largest tree ever transplanted to that area to give the project age? Or building a man made pond, the stocking it with the proper balance of wildlife to give nature a share of the property.

This unusual place has attracted the unusual as well. Unique shopkeepers and specialty merchants have their own interesting stories to tell about coming to Long Grove. And the beauty of this quaint complex in its pastoral setting draws visitors from miles around.

Reminiscent of the grist mill that operated in Long Grove a century ago, this 16-foot diameter undeshot water wheel was hand-built by Mill Pond's architect Sherman Gerber.

Flat Tire For Lake Villa

I'm from Lake Villa. Only fruitcakes think a Bookmobile would save the Lake Villa Library. Bookmobiles are good for only one thing — wasting our money. A serious expansion of the Lake Villa Library would be a good investment and a sound improvement. The library needs help, for our children's sake. We already have children in Libertyville learning in trailers; we don't need children reading library books in trailers, too.

You Think It's Crowded?

This call originates from Vernon Hills. I would like to tell the person in Antioch, who thinks that town is becoming an Arlington Heights, that he is all wrong. Try living in Vernon Hills. If you think you're overcrowded and have no room to move, why not live here for a while and see what it's like to be elbow-to-elbow with your neighbor.

I Park Where I Want To

I am one person who has the guts to call and say that I park in a parking spot that's marked for the handicapped. I'll sit in my car and wait for my wife while she's doing shopping. If one of the other handicap parking spaces gets filled while I am sitting there, I'll move my car. I'm not going to avoid parking in one of those spots if there are five empty places. I'll keep on parking in those places for as long as I can. By the way, I've never been given a ticket for parking in a handicap parking space.

Batter Up!

Now that the Groundhog has seen his shadow, and we're going to have six more weeks of winter, I'd like to remind the public that opening day of baseball is about two months away. Let's Go Cubs!

Dress Code Gets Applause

I'm from Libertyville and I also support a school dress code. The individual who called in last week and said "kids need to express themselves by wearing certain clothes" is way off base. Yes, there needs to be a dress code, but for different reasons. My kids have been hitting me up for about $1,000 each school year for fancy, designer clothes. They feel they need to compete with other students. Clothes may "make the teen," but it also "makes Dad broke." Implement a school dress code and save the ego trips for Saturday and Sunday.

Is It Wrong?

I can't believe the animal lover who said "Animals Have Rights, Too." You've got to be crazy! What rights do animals have? The last I checked, they can't vote, drive, buy, sell, barter or get married. What rights do they have? I'd like to know. P.S.: Don't give me any of that "right to life" stuff.

Build A Mall For Kids

This is in response to the person in Antioch who wanted a roller skating rink or water park to keep the children and youth occupied, rather than turn to drugs, etc. You should do what we did in Vernon Hills. We built a mall and the kids hang out there. They're not aloud to smoke, drink or do anything there, except hang around. The mall also provides us with plenty of sales tax money.

Spring's Around The Corner

When will people stop complaining about things that cannot be changed? It will always snow; it will always be cold. We just have to wait for Spring. We can't rush it. Thank you. I'm from Libertyville.

I Didn't Catch Your Name

I've got a gripe, and I've been waiting a long time to say something to the people who complain about Lipservice. This comment is especially to the guy who called this column "yellow journalism." You complained that a lot of us are just wasting our time, and if we had any guts, we'd leave our name. How come you didn't leave your name? Your no better than anybody else. If you're going to rip into us, the faithful callers of Lipservice, you better back it up.

At Least They Can Add

I have a comment about a bank in Round Lake Beach. This bank, which has one of those "moving-light" signs, must need help. I have driven past there two different times and read messages with errors. The last one I saw said, "Turn off lights when not (is) use." I think they meant "in" use. I also want to thank Lipservice. It's a great opportunity to voice my opinion.

Deer Are A Resource

Yes! Yes! Yes! This is to the person who said deer were a God-given resource. They are a resource and we should utilize them as such. Deer are animals and nothing more. Hooray to the gentleman who made the comments and had the guts to stand up for his beliefs!

Humans Need Help, Too

Hey, Lipservice! I like the questions you now ask us. It's a nice change of pace. To the matter at hand: I wonder why there are so many people out saving the deer. If they concentrated their efforts on the human race, I bet things could be better for all of us. To heck with the deer; let's work for the people.

Look In Classified

This is for "Needs A Job" who wants the riverboats to come to Lake County so she can get a job. I wish she would look in the classified ad section of her paper. She would get a better paying job and wouldn't be contributing to the delinquency of the human race.

Groundhog ice fishing tournament set for Feb. 7

The Deep Lake Improvement Association announces its second annual Groundhog Ice Fishing Derby on Feb. 7 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. with registration at the beach.

Over $2,000 in cash prizes could be won by some lucky fisherman. There will be four tagged fish, (a bluegill, a crappie, a long mouthed bass, and a northern) that will be worth $500 each. Other prizes include a two-man ice fishing tent drawing, a power ice auger, and individual prizes for the largest fish, most fish by one person, smallest fish, and largest panfish.

Contestants must have a valid Illinois fishing license to participate and a $5 entry / donation fee is required. The proceeds will benefit the Deep Lake Improvement Association's program to preserve the lake.

Area Operation Snowflake continues program on Feb. 6

The Lake Villa/ Lindenhurst Community Operation Snowflake second annual day-long outing is set for Feb. 6 at St. Mark's Lutheran Church from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Over 100 kids attended last year's successful event, which is a one-day workshop that increases self-esteem, teaches peer-leadership skills, encourages a drug-free life style, and stresses making healthy decisions. Contrary to what some may think, Snowflake is not a drug rehabilitation program or a place to discuss personal family problems.

Operation Snowflake is a program where healthy kids learn to make healthy decisions about themselves and their lives. It is a real opportunity for seventh and eighth-grade students to get involved in their community, meet kids in the area Snowball High School programs, and be positive for eight hours straight.

The cost of the day is $10 per child, which will include: warm fuzzies, t-shirts, breakfast, lunch, snacks, small group activities, and speakers. In addition this year, many donations have been made by local stores, organizations, and government and school agencies.

Women's Club to host luncheon

Antioch Christian Women's Club will hold its luncheon on Feb. 18, 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. at Hogan's Restaurant in Antioch.

People are invited to Go Coconuts! at the Aloha Luncheon. Charlene Cox of North Star Travel, Inc. will encourage attendees to slip away for a getaway weekend. Leah Paperitz will sail on a song.

Speaker Judy Majchrowitz from Crystal Lake will share "A Free Ticket to Paradise."

Free nursery is provided for children 10 and under. To make reservations call Linda at 680-3553 or Renee at 395-1281 by Feb. 11. Reservations must be honored, canceled or used by a friend.

Pace loses surcharge

Pace, the suburban bus service, will be eliminating the 25 cent surcharge on monthly and weekly bus passes that was a part of a CTA fare demonstration. However, in order to continue to coordinate its services with those of the CTA, Pace is changing the price of these passes to match CTA increases.

There will now be a joint CTA and Pace monthly pass priced at $78, that can be used on both systems seven days a week for the entire month.

In addition, Pace will sell a monthly passport for $66 that can be used everyday on Pace buses, but weekdays only on the CTA. The CTA will also sell a monthly pass, that is only valid Monday through Friday on both CTA and Pace services, for $66.

A joint CTA and Pace weekly pass will be available for $20.50. It will be valid on both systems for a seven day period, Sunday through Saturday.

Some transfer costs to the CTA will change slightly and the rush hour period will be extended to include the hours of 6 to 10 a.m. and 3 to 7 p.m. More detailed fare information will be posted in Pace buses.

Changing-of-the-guard a quiet, quick one in NSC

"The running game is not our style. We have to play half-court basketball," Campbell said.

Other girls basketball highlights included a 44-41 win over Round Lake by Wauconda. The loss was the first for the Panthers in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

Katy Clark did the most damage, scoring 16 points and interrupting the Panthers

The take-over was a friendly one.

Off the court, the Stevenson girls basketball team is among the friendliest around. The freshmen-dominated squad will gladly talk about any aspect of basketball.

On the court, the Patriots were an outfit with a point to prove as they took on Warren Saturday.

"I remember being humbled by them last year" Stevenson's Danielle Mall said.

Mall scored nine points, freshman Katie Coleman had 10 as the Pats won going away, 48-28. The win made up for a 51-28 loss to Libertyville two nights earlier and gave the Pats a two-game lead on the two-time defending champs with four league games left.

"We're a step closer, but we haven't wrapped up anything yet, Stevenson Coach Frank Mattucci said.

The win starts a new victory streak for Stevenson, which finishes the regular season on the road at Antioch Feb. 5, Lake Forest Feb. 9 and at Mundelein Feb. 11.

"Thursday we played like freshmen; today we played like seniors," Mattucci said.

For Coleman, her final points included two free throws with 3:38 left for a 14-point Stevenson margin. By that time, the band crew was setting up the stage for the boys game.

"I played in over 100 games over the summer and that helped," Coleman said.

She has been doing that for years now, as she started playing hoops when she was five-years-old in her Buffalo Grove home. She played for an AAU team which finished fourth in the nation.

Coleman and the rest of the Pats took pride in holding the county's leading scorer, Marlene Elfering, to four points. "We switched off Rebekah Ford and Catchings (Tauja) on her and it worked,"

Coleman said.

Stevenson (19-4, 11-1) took awhile to get on track. But luckily Warren missed its first five shots and in a prelude of things to come, committed eight turnover and Stevenson clung to a 12-8 lead.

fun at "Pack the Place".

Cassandra Bass led the Panthers with 11. The win gives the area eight teams at or above .500 as WHS was 10-10, 6-6.

One has to feel sorry for the North Chicago team. The Warhawks regularly lose by 30 points, lost a prospect, Vanessa Johnson, to a transfer to Waukegan. And Coach China Jude's team must face Stevenson in the first round of the Highland Park sectional Feb. 15 as No. 16 seed meets No. 1.

Also on Feb. 15: Waukegan (9) is at Lake Forest (8); Grant (13) is at Deerfield (4). Grayslake (12) is at Round Lake (5) as the two teams meet for the fourth time.

Antioch (15) is at Warren (2) on Feb. 16. Other games pit Zion-Benton (10) at Lake Zurich (7); Highland Park (14) at Libertyville (3) and Mundelein (11) at Carmel (6).

Johnsburg is the 17th seed in its own complex and must face No. 16 Streamwood Feb. 16.

Panthers take NWSC with reversal of fortune

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

Host Round Lake turned the mat on Johnsborg to win its fourth straight Northwest Suburban Conference wrestling title.

The Panthers were 38-23 victims to Johnsborg a week earlier, but bounced back to score a 44-22 win in the final team match-up of the NWSC meet last Friday.

"I'm very happy," said Round Lake coach Bob Curran. "I felt our kids wrestled very well. They had their backs against the wall."

Curran said the severe reversal of fortune between the Panthers and Skyhawks was the result of two factors: Johnsborg was missing a couple of their front-line wrestlers in the league meet and the Panthers just plain wrestled better this time around.

This was the first year the conference meet was contested in a team-dual format.

"We'd thought we'd do something different — another format," Curran said. "We're still kicking around what we'll do next year."

Round Lake and Johnsborg had the byes in the quarterfinals, while Grant whipped Marian Central 63-6 and Grayslake slipped by Wauconda 36-31.

In the semifinals, Round Lake got past Grant 33-25 and Johnsborg upended Grayslake 54-14.

Grant topped Grayslake 38-21 for third place.

The Panthers now turn their attention to the regional at Antioch. Round Lake wrestlers who will be seeded high in the tourney include Justin Zdeb at 130 (18-0) Mike Kukla at 103 (32-2), Rusty Nofsinger at 160 (28-2), Luke Tesch at 189 (25-5) and Gary Bailey at 135 (23-8).

Christensen, 'Cats garner crowns in NSC wrestling

A new move or two here, a strong performance by an underclassmen there and one has the makings for a successful conference meet.

Such was the case for North Suburban Conference champ Libertyville, runner-up Antioch and fourth-place finisher Stevenson at the meet held at Warren.

"I worked on it a couple of times, but it did not really work," Libertyville heavy-weight Reed Christensen said.

Christensen, with only one loss to Conant this year, used a sustained setback to shock Antioch's Mike Shea in a quick 1:33 in the heavyweight championship bout.

The Wildcats, undefeated dual meet champs, finished with 162 meet points.

Antioch was second with 141.5 and host Warren third with 101.5. Stevenson moved up to the upper division of the league with 96.5 points. Rounding out the totals were: Fenton (80), Mundelein edged Lake Forest 69-68; Zion-Benton had 30 and North Chicago 15.5.

Libertyville also received titles from Bob Paulson at 145 pounds and Seth Aldridge at 189.

"Adam Kahn (consolation winner at 112) beat two guys who had pinned him before," Libertyville Coach Dale Eggert pointed out.

He mentioned his team's balance as key to the crown. "We needed the other place-winners to win and they did," Eggert said.

New play is just the ticket as MHS girls gain 8th 'W'

Mundelein's girls basketball team used a new play to hang on to win its eighth game of the season, Saturday over Lake Forest.

"We worked the ball around and Lindsay Prezell was open for a 12-footer," Mundelein Coach Rick Foss said. "That's her range, she is a 37 percent field-goal shooter."

Prezell, the calm sophomore, sank the shot, providing Mundelein with a 30-28 North Suburban Conference win. The win improved Mundelein to 8-13 overall, 4-9 in the NSC.

Prezell finished with 14 points and was the lone Mustang scorer to reach double-figures in this defensive-minded contest.

The Mustangs received contributions from others in different areas. Tynn

Lindsay Prezell

T'Niemi had 10 rebounds and four assists; Tiffany Campbell seven rebounds and Kandace Kessel six rebounds.

"The first game against them, we played man-to-man defense. This game we played a tight 2-1-2 zone," Foss said.

Mundelein, after battling Warren Feb. 4, is at Antioch Feb. 9 and concludes the regular season by hosting NSC leader Stevenson Feb. 11.

The win helped make up for a 49-33 loss to Fenton in Bensenville. Mundelein managed only 10 first-half points.

"We were very lethargic. I don't know if it was the long bus ride or what, but that was our worst game in a couple of weeks," Foss said. "We played better in the second half and that carried over into the Lake Forest game."

Burr takes full advantage of chance to start for Grant

Grant High School boys basketball Coach Tom Maple thought Jody Burr was deserving of a start against Wauconda.

And how.

The senior capped off a successful week with a 17-point showing as Grant won the Battle of the Bulldogs, 70-52. More importantly, the win earned Grant an 8-4 league mark, tied for first with Round Lake. Wauconda slipped to 2-8, 7-11 overall.

"Burr was instrumental in getting us off to a good start in the first quarter," Maple said.

Grant led 20-10 after one and the home team had a strong finish with a 24-point fourth quarter.

Burr shared team scoring leaders with Nelson Anderson. Kurt Filitreault had nine points.

Burr sank two key free throws which sealed a 68-65 win over Grayslake, setting up the bid for the first-place tie.

"He deserved a shot and showed a lot of poise coming in for his first start," Maple said.

Grant is at Johnsbury Feb. 5, a team the Bulldogs handled easily twice. Grant hosts Round Lake Feb. 11.

Wauconda, which is at Grayslake Feb. 5, was led by Byron Johnson's 12 points. He was the only Wauconda player to reach double figures. The visitors cut a 15-point Grant lead in half before the hosts pulled away in the fourth.

Frankowski adjusts for CLC

The 1992-93 basketball season started on a bright note for Julie Frankowski.

She led the College of Lake County women's basketball team with 14 points in a 64-45 loss to Waukesha.

But the season has been one of ups and downs for both Frankowski and the team, which is trying to break free from negative feelings of a January slump in order for a post-season push. The Lancers took strides in that direction by setting a school record for points with a 104-25 win over Morton.

"We all wanted to score 100 points real bad. It was a team thing," Frankowski said.

Julie Frankowski

Frankowski, a 5-11 sophomore, scored the last five points, all on free throws, as CLC achieved the milestone. Frankowski led the Lancers with 35 points.

"We now have our confidence back," Frankowski said as the team improved to 10-11 overall, 2-3 in the Skyway Conference.

The Lancers faced two key road tests this week, at Waubesa and McHenry. CLC hosts Oakton at 5 p.m. Feb. 11.

"Julie has had a couple of good games for us in a row. She got a lot of her baskets against Morton on put-backs," CLC Coach Don Zeman said.

Frankowski's contributions were important because she assumed the position of injured leading scorer, Liz Johnson. Frankowski, a Warren Twp. High School graduate, had 16 points in a loss to Kankakee and 19 against Elgin.

New, familiar faces lead LZ

Lake Zurich's boys basketball team received strong games from a newcomer and someone who has been on the Bears roster for three years in a defeat of Crystal Lake Central.

The Bears' Glenn Touchette, with the club for less than two weeks and senior Reid Wiersma both had 16 points in an 85-60 win.

"He is coming along well. We have only had him for 10 days so he needs more time, but he is learning the offense," Coach Doug Cook said of Touchette.

Wiersma has been with the Bears all four years while Touchette transferred from Phoenix.

"Reed has been playing well," Cook said of the 5-9 senior guard.

The Bears improved to 13-7 overall, 6-4 in the Fox Valley, hood enough for fourth place. The Bears are at the team beneath them in the standings, Dundee-Crown, on Feb. 5.

The Bears are then at Hampshire Feb. 6.

"Dundee-Crown has been playing well. They're young and have a number of kids who can hurt you," Cook said.

The Bears blew the game open against Central with a 31-point third quarter. "We just kept doing what we had been doing well," Cook said.

Rob Grisamore had 15 points and Brad Marshall 10 for the winners.

Pats to look for volleyball assistant coaches as well

The head coach may not only be the new person on the sidelines when Stevenson volleyball team takes to the court in September.

Athletic Director John Martin confirmed one assistant has resigned. Head Coach Bob Schenk is not returning after guiding the Patriot program to its status as the most successful the past two years.

Schenk has 327-70 career record, 296 coming in Lincolnshire after a successful career in Wisconsin. His Patriot teams have played in five supersectionals, winning two and advancing to the Elite Elite.

According to Schenk, his long-time assistant Jim Feurer and Dennis Petroski will not be back. "It was their choice," Schenk said.

"I'm leaving my options open. I'd like to build a program and maintain it," Schenk said.

"I'd highly recommend Schenk for any job," Martin said.

Martin said he has received a lot of applications for the head coaching job, whose deadline for submittal is Feb. 11.

Schenk said he made the decision after last season. The Pats advanced to the Sweet Sixteen and were one game away from another trip to Illinois State University before Schaumburg dominated the next two games.

One of his thrills, he said, was coaching his daughter, Robyn, an all-stater who played at Cathage in Kenosha. Another was having two former players, Carol Bufe and Mary Jo Kunzman return as assistant coaches.

As for the short term, Schenk will be back as assistant track and field coach.

"I enjoy track and field an awful lot. You can see the results of hard work right away," Schenk said.

The Pats had two state place-finishers last year, as Danielle Mall was fourth in the discus and Robyn Schenk was sixth.

Montgomery's shows shot skills in heartbreaking loss

Carmel High School basketball fans, thinking back a few years, may probably remember the skills of David Montgomery.

He would zoom past the defenses, guiding the Carmel offense. Now he is fitting right in, thank you, with the junior college game.

"He has been doing an excellent job," CLC Coach

Bruce Smith said of Montgomery. "He has been playing well all year long. He is making a lot better passes. He has almost seven assists a game."

Montgomery, a 5-10 sophomore guard, netted his best effort to date with 21 points but CLC fell to Morton 76-73 in Skyway Conference action. Eddie White chipped in with 20 as the Lancers dropped to 15-8 overall, 5-2 in Skyway. The league wins include two forfeits by Truman, who no longer has a team.

CLC is at Olive-Harvey for a non-conference tilt Feb. 9 before hosting Oakton Feb. 11.

CLC had 14 and 12 point leads against Morton. The visitors rallied and won the game on a three-point basket. CLC led by 44-41 at halftime.
